THE IDEAL COLLEGE CAMPUS

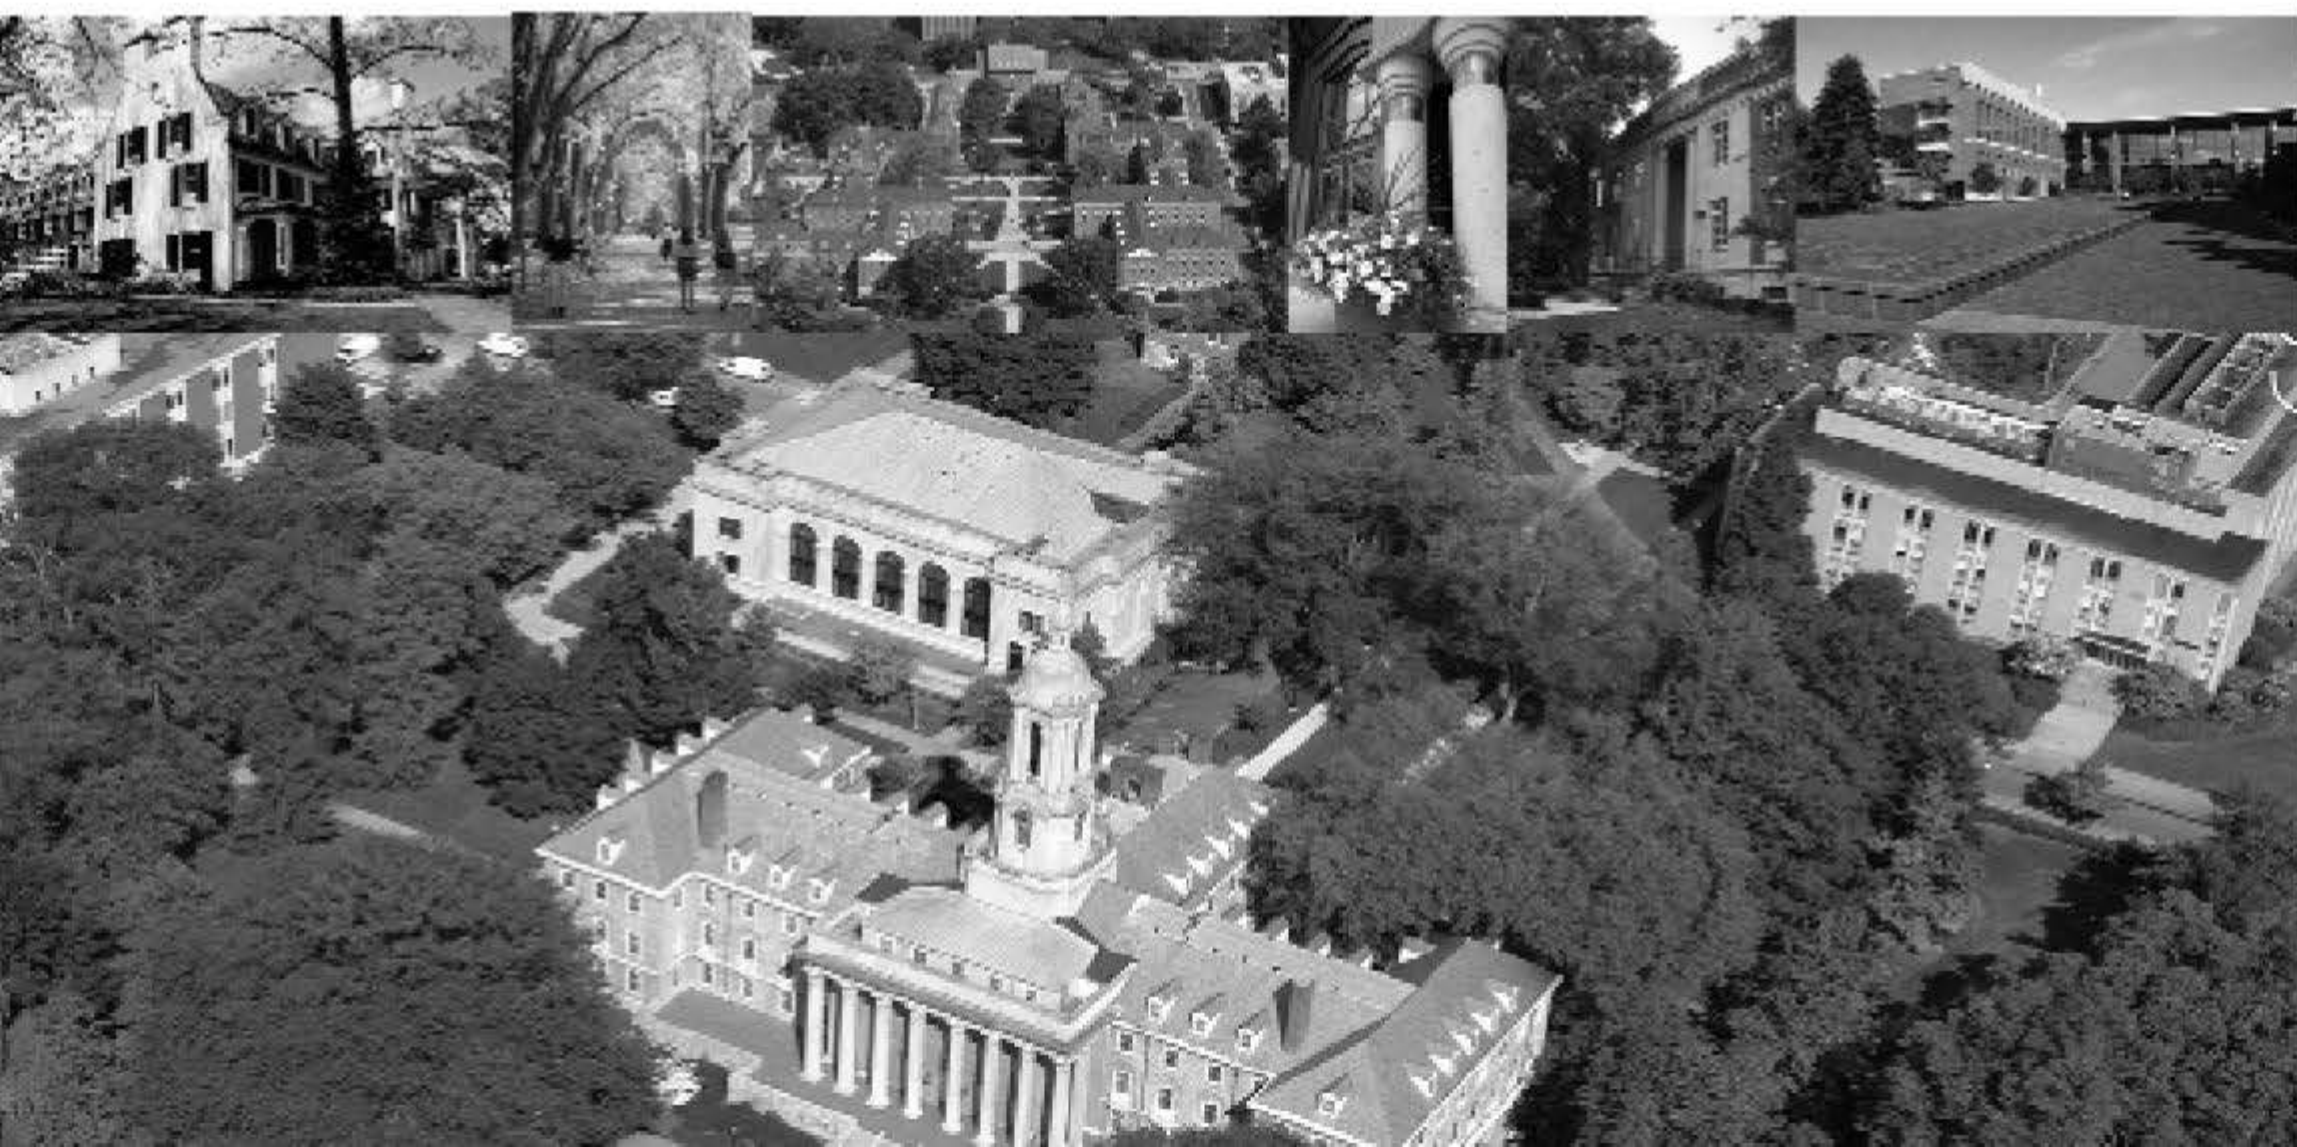

In a book titled "Ivy League Programs at State School Prices," Penn State is described as one of six public institutions that offers superior educational opportunities comparable to their Ivy League counterparts, but at a lower cost.

Nestled in the Nittany Valley, the Penn State campus has a charm that easily is identified. The CBS Television show "60 Minutes" once described Penn State as the ideal setting for any Hollywood director doing a film on college life.

Penn State was chartered in 1855 when a faculty of four taught its first students, 11 of whom graduated on 1861. Classes were held in Old Main, which also served as a dormitory. A rebuilt Old Main now is the site of the offices of the University administration, including Dr. Graham Spanier, who became Penn State's 16th president in 1995.

While Old Main once was all that existed of Penn State, today it sits in the middle of 15,984 acres that make up the University Park campus. Five hundred and forty acres, which includes more than 12,000 trees, are devoted to classrooms and office buildings, residence halls and laboratories, with more than 750 buildings comprising the main campus.

From Old Main to Mount Nittany...from Puller Library to the Creamery...from the new Business and Information Sciences and Technology buildings, the Palmer Museum of Art or the Bryce Jordan Center, Penn State's campus has a picture postcard look.

State College ranked 19th on Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine's 2006 list of "50 Smart Places to Live," ranking it among the most fun, vibrant and affordable cities in the nation.

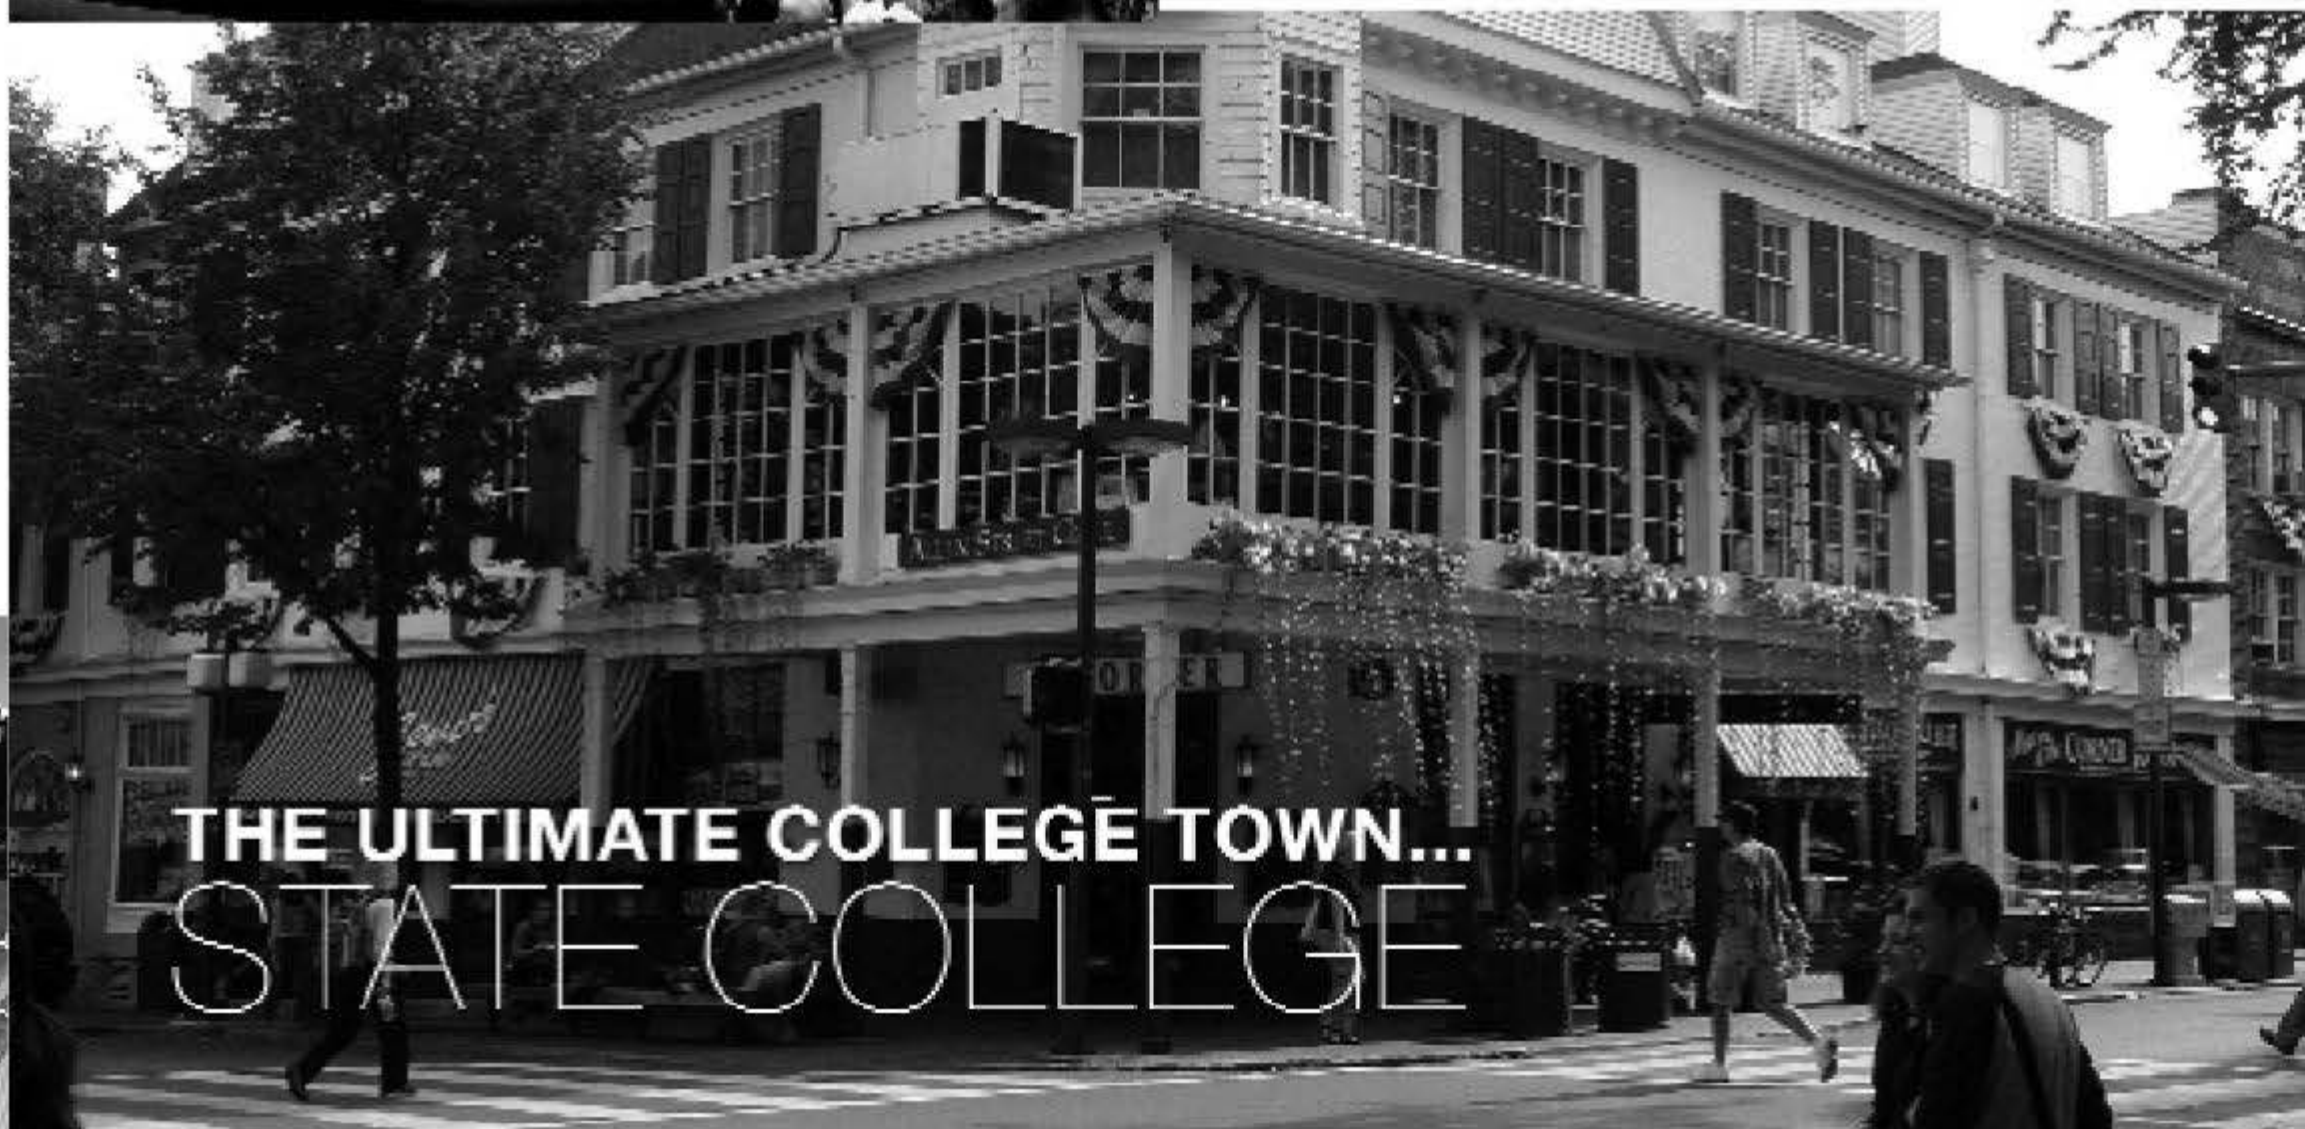

Penn State is situated in the middle of State College...the classic "college town." Located in the Nittany Valley in the center of Pennsylvania, State College is renowned for its beauty, charm and youthful lifestyle.

Trees and greenery envelope the stately fraternity houses along "Fraternity Row" and the surrounding residential areas. Quaint shops and popular restaurants and taverns share the cozy downtown area with students' favorite fast food shops, contemporary clothing stores and gathering spots.

And it all lies in the shadow of the legendary Mt. Nittany in what is affectionately known as "Happy Valley."

State College is conveniently located in the heart of the nation's mid-Atlantic region. It is less than a four-hour drive to New York City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington D.C. However, State College provides a great variety of entertainment itself with rock concerts at the Bryce Jordan Center, skiing, fishing, the Central Pennsylvania Festival of the Arts, numerous student organized events and much more.

With a total full-time work force of more than 11,000 faculty, staff, and support personnel, Penn State is Centre County's largest employer. The Centre Region - State College and adjacent townships has approximately 120,000 inhabitants, including Penn State students.

$176 million committed to new construction and facility enhancement is taking Penn State Athletics into the new century.

FANTASTIC FACILITIES

To support its broad-based program, Penn State has athletic facilities the equal of any school in the country.

On the east side of campus lies perhaps the most recognizable of the athletic venues – 107,282-seat Beaver Stadium and the 15,300-seat Bryce Jordan Center, which opened in 1996. The $55 million academic/athletic convocation and events center is the home for the Nittany Lion and Lady Lion basketball teams. Penn State's gymnastics, volleyball and wrestling teams compete in the newly refurbished, 6,846 seat Rec Hall.

Other athletic facilities include newly refurbished Jeffrey Field, the home for soccer and lacrosse, with its stadium seating for 5,000 fans and adjacent state-of-the-art soccer practice fields completed in 2008; Medlar Field at Lubrano Park, a magnificent 5,400-seat baseball facility located adjacent to Beaver Stadium which has served as the home of Penn State baseball since 2004; Nittany Lion track; the $1.6 million Indoor Multi-Sport facility which houses a state-of-the-art track among the best in the world and a turf practice field; the $2.1 million Sami Tennis Center as well as an indoor tennis facility; the Rigler Athletic Complex and the Ernest B. McCoy Natatorium with an adjoining outdoor pool; two 18 hole University golf courses and softball fields.

Penn State totaled $176 million for the construction and renovation of a number of facilities, many of which have recently been completed. Among those still on the docket are a new softball complex and golf team clubhouse slated for completion in the next two years.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

BIG LIFE, BIG STAGE, BIG TEN.

The Big Ten Conference is a union of 11 world-class academic institutions who share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference's 100+ years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovation position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student athletes' lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.

STUDENT-ATHLETE OPPORTUNITIES

- Big Ten universities provide approximately $100 million in direct financial aid to more than 8,500 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women.
- Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with more than 270 teams. Other than the Ivy League, the Big Ten has the most broad-based athletic programs in the United States.

TOP ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

- Big Ten universities are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.

MORE TELEVISION EXPOSURE

- The Big Ten's media agreements with CBS Sports, ABC/RSPN, the Big Ten Network and CBS College Sports Network provide the conference with its greatest television exposure ever.
- In 2006, the Big Ten created the first national conference-owned television network devoted to the athletic and academic programs of a single conference. The Big Ten Network launched on Aug. 30, 2007, and became the first new network in cable or satellite television history to reach 50 million homes in its first 30 days. The Big Ten Network is now available to more than 70 million homes nationally through agreements with more than 250 cable/satellite affiliates and appears in 23 of the top 25 national media markets.
- Since the current media agreements began in 2007-08, every home football and men's basketball game has been produced while women's basketball has received more coverage than any other conference.
- The Big Ten's new media agreements have resulted in the broadcast of more than 500 events nationally and regionally on an annual basis, compared to 300 events in the final year of the previous agreements.

NATION'S BEST FANS

- Big Ten fans are some of the nation's most supportive, with more than 8.7 million patrons attending conference home contests during the 2008-09 seasons for football, men's and women's basketball and volleyball alone.
- Over the last 31 seasons, the conference has ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 nationally in football, men's basketball and wrestling attendance. For the past 17 seasons, women's basketball has been ranked either No. 1 or No. 2 nationally in attendance.
- Big Ten institutions have more than 4.2 million living alumni and over 300,000 undergraduate students attending their universities.

SUCCESSFUL PROGRAMS

- During the 2008-09 season, the Big Ten claimed five team national championships, including titles for Iowa wrestling, Penn State fencing and women's volleyball, Northwestern lacrosse and Wisconsin women's ice hockey. In addition, Big Ten teams finished as the national runner-up in men's basketball and men's gymnastics.
- Big Ten teams have claimed at least three national titles in nine of the last 10 seasons (1999-2000 through 2008-09). Over the last decade, the Big Ten has produced team national crowns in the sports of basketball, cross country, fencing, field hockey, football, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, soccer, softball, synchronized swimming, tennis, track and field, volleyball and wrestling.

LEADERSHIP IN GENDER EQUITY

- Since 1992, the Big Ten has shown a strong commitment to increasing opportunities for women in sports and exposure of women's athletics by establishing a multi-phased gender equity program. In that time, the Big Ten has created increases of 2,000 new opportunities for women student athletes and established 20 new women's teams, while expanding the number of women's championships to 13 by adding field hockey, soccer and rowing.
- As part of the gender equity action plan, the Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male/female participation goals for student-athletes in 1997. The Big Ten initiated a five-year plan for conference members to commit to a 60 percent/40 percent male-to-female student-athlete participation. This was achieved as a conference by 1997 and 2000 was the first year that all institutions individually met this goal. As part of its commitment to gender equity, the Council of Presidents/Chancellors annually monitors this policy. During the 2007-08 year, all institutions were in compliance and the conference averaged a 52/48 male-to-female participation ratio.

BUILDING THE FUTURE

- In 1989, the Big Ten created a community outreach program—SUCRA (Success Comes Out of Reaching Everybody), which partners the conference with two Chicago elementary schools to improve reading performances. What began with one school, two grade levels and five classrooms has grown in its 20th year to include grades kindergarten through eighth, encompassing all classes and students at Meloy School and Louis Armstrong School.

- Following the national tragedy on Sept. 11, 2001, the Big Ten, through its intercollegiate athletic department involvement, pledged a $1 million scholarship contribution to assist the families of those affected by the terrorist attacks. The conference's donation is called the "Big Ten 9-11 Scholarships Fund", and the $1 million contribution will be drawn from conference reserves which are generated as a result of football and men's basketball participation in NCAA, bowl and regular-season television opportunities.
- The Big Ten has established numerous community programs surrounding the Big Ten Men's and Women's Basketball Tournaments, including the Wayne Duke Postgraduate Award Scholarship, the Big Ten Career Fair, the Hoops Day 5K and a partnership with the Pink Ribbon Connection, a local breast cancer organization.

Additionally, resume and cover letter writing, career planning, and gaining professional employment are topics covered in the Jaffe Senior Seminar: Life After Sport.

MORGAN CENTER MISSION

Central to the mission of Intercollegiate Athletics is the opportunity for student-athletes to experience a well-rounded educational program at The Pennsylvania State University. The mission of the Morgan Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes is to provide appropriate academic support services and University Faculty Senate, NCAA, and Big Ten Conference academic eligibility information to all student-athletes. These services and information should assist student-athletes in achieving their academic goals while participating in a demanding NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletic program. These services also should ensure progress toward graduation through timely completion of degree requirements for baccalaureate and graduate programs.

SPORTS PSYCHOLOGY

A sport psychologist provides counseling and support to student-athletes in the areas of mental preparation strategies for training and competition, motivation and meaningful goal setting, visualization and performance planning, concentration and mental focusing, coping skill strategies for dealing with adversity, and, in general, issues pertaining to self-esteem development and student-athlete welfare.

ATHLETIC HONOR SOCIETY

The Athletic Honor Society, Spiritus Leonius (Spirit of the Lion), recognizes student-athletes for outstanding performance in athletics, academics, leadership, and community service.

SAAB

NAGLE CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAM 1998 NCAA PROGRAM OF EXCELLENCE

The Nagle CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success)/Life Skills Program has been a model program and a consulting resource for the NCAA since its inception in 1989. THON

Dance Marathon, often referred to as THON, is the largest student-run philanthropy in the nation, raising more than $59 million for the Four Diamonds Fund and children's cancer research since its inception in 1973.

DS: Defensive Specialist, a substitution in the backrow for serving, passing and defensive purposes

S: Setter, generally handles the second contact to distribute the ball to the hitters, may only attack and block when in the front row
L: Libero, a backrow player concentrated on passing and defense; may serve; may not attack the ball above the height of the net; wears a different colored jersey to help distinguish "on-the-fly" entry into the game.

New Terminology and Scoring:

There were a few new rule changes in 2008. The NCAA coaches have decided to change the terminology "game" to "set" - so now matches consist of the best three-of-five sets. Also, instead of rally scoring to 30 points in the first four sets, sets will be played to 25. The fifth set will still be rally scoring to 15 points. Both changes were made to mirror international volleyball.

Season In Review

The History

Setter

Alisha Glass

of Alisha."

Coach Rose has described Carpenter as an all-around player. The four-time Capital District Player of the Year guided her Hanover High School team to three straight district championships. She was also a member of the USA Youth National Team as a sophomore where she was the starting setter and the USA Junior National Team as the starting libero during her junior year.

"Kristin was a setter for the USA Youth National Team three years ago," said Rose. "I think she might have some say as to who gets reps and makes contributions on the different areas of the court. She will certainly be on the floor."

Outside Hitter

Penn State returns two AVCA All-Americans at outside hitter in 2009 in first team honoree Megan Hodge on the left side and second team honoree Blair Brown on the right. Joining the veterans are sophomore Katie Kabbes and freshman Darcy Dorton.

Rose will rely on Hodge not only for her prior experience on the court, but to be a mentor to the younger players.

"She has the ability to not only contribute at a high level to enhance our chances of success, but also to be a mentor to the younger players," said Rose. "They'll need to be able to count on her as she counted on Nicole (Fawcett) and Christa (Harmotto). That would be a great thing for Megan to be able to do her senior year."

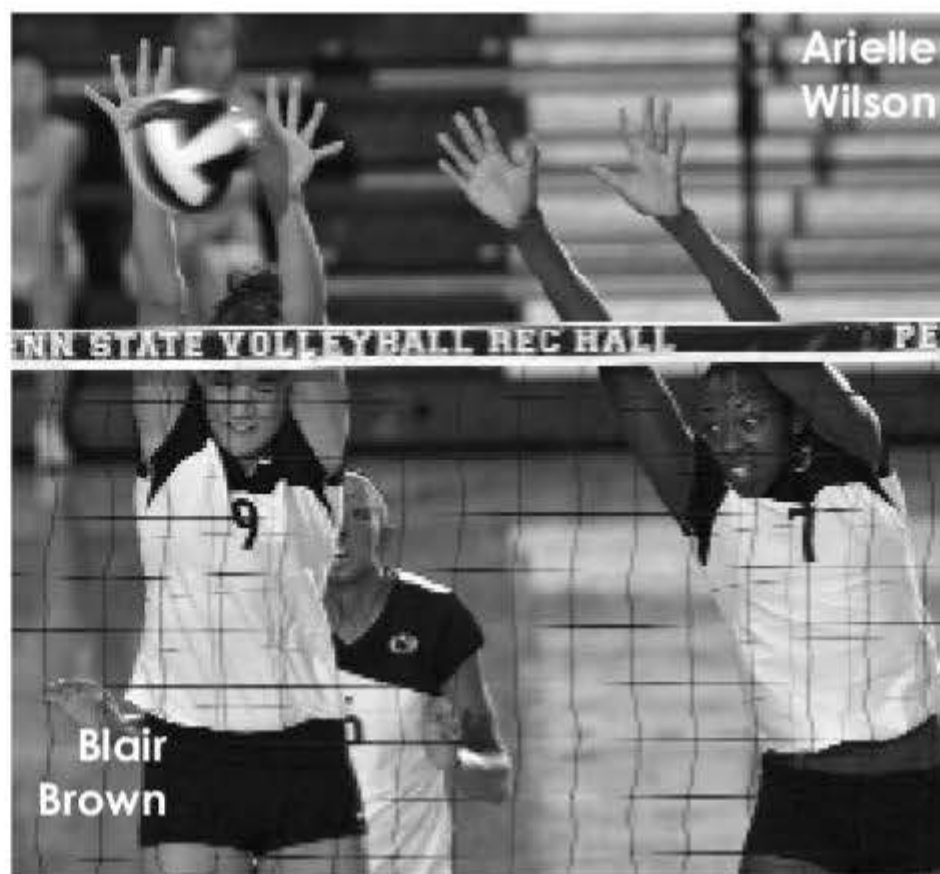

Hodge led the team last season with 470 kills, averaging 4.09 kills per set. She heads into her senior season fifth on the career charts with 1,582 kills and leading all Penn Staters with a 4.51 kills per set career average. Hodge has also been strong on defense ranking second on the team in 2008 with 242 digs and a 2.10 digs per set average. In the NCAA Championship match with Stanford, Hodge led all players with 16 kills while hitting at a .318 clip and tallied 14 digs for her fifth double-double of the season. She was also named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player for the second year in a row.

Brown could see time at both the middle and outside positions. She came into her own in the 2008 title run earning a spot on the NCAA Regional All-Tournament team. She finished the season with the third-highest hitting percentage on the team (.426) and recorded 217 kills and 94 blocks.

"She's improved a great deal and was an AVCA Second Team All-American," said Rose. "I wouldn't be surprised if she improves on that this season."

Kabbes returns for her second season with the Nittany Lions after seeing limited playing time in 2008 behind Hodge, Fawcett and Blair. She totaled 24 kills and 15 digs for the year.

"Katie has the experience of seeing all of our matches last year although she did not play much," said Rose. "She had an opportunity to see what the expectations are and what she'll need to do to play at a high level whether she's on the left or right side. She's an engaging young player and everyone likes her which are positive things."

Dorton comes to Penn State as a highly decorated AAU player. The 6-2 Muncie, Ind. native was a three-time AAU 18 Open All-American. She guided her Delta High School team to the State Championship in 2008, captained the Junior National Team which won the 2008 NORSECA Championship, and aided her club team in winning the 2009 AAU 18 Open National Championship and the JVDA 18 Open National Championship.

Middle Hitter

With the loss of four-time AVCA All-American Christa Harmotto at the primary middle hitter position, junior returner Arielle Wilson will have some big shoes to fill as she takes over the spot. Brown and transfer Fatima Balza will join Wilson in the middle. Senior Kelsey Ream, who saw action mostly as a serving specialist last season, will be out for much of the season on the injured reserve list.

"Kelsey is an important part of the team and a lovely young person," said Rose. "She was the third middle on a team with two All-American middles. She didn't receive a lot of opportunities, but she seized the opportunity that was available. She made some great contributions in our run at the end of the year for the national championship."

"Wilson has been a force to reckon with since day one. After being named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in 2007, Wilson was named a Second Team AVCA All-American in her sophomore season. She finished fourth on the team in kills (245), but her .458 hitting percentage ranked second on the team behind Harmotto. Wilson averaged 1.37 blockers per set, which ranked 17th in the country, and recorded 159 blocks for the year.

"Arielle will now become our primary middle," said Rose. "Hopefully she learned a great deal about what the position entails and saw from Christa's energy and performance what she must do to help the team win."

Brown, while a possibility at the right outside position, may also see time in the middle. Rose is confident in her abilities noting that, "she's a bright player who hits at a very high level. She can attack the ball at radical angles that cause teams to struggle."

Alyssa D'Errico

Balza joins the Nittany Lions after two years at Western Nebraska Community College. The 6-2 middle hitter hails from Merida, Venezuela and in 2003. Balza guided WNCC to the NJCAA National Championship in 2007 and was selected the Region IX Freshman of the Year. In her sophomore season, Balza and her team placed third in the NJCAA Tournament and she earned First Team All-America status.

Libero/Defensive Specialist

For three years, Coach Rose counted on Roberta Holehouse as his starting libero. Heading into the season, while he is not yet sure who will secure the position, there is a diverse group of back row players that offer talent, quickness and experience.

Junior Alyssa D'Errico played in 36 matches in 2008 and started in place of Holehouse after she suffered an injury. She tallied 197 digs and averaged 1.79 digs per set. D'Errico also assisted as a serving specialist and notched 22 service aces in her sophomore season. Coach Rose will look to D'Errico not only for her past experience, but also for her strong passing ability.

Junior Cathy Quilico, while the shortest member of the team at 5-1, is considered one of the quickest. Coach Rose believes she has made "great strides in both the spring and heading into the fall."

In addition to Carpenter, Coach Rose also has the options of junior transfer Jessica Ullrich and sophomores Heather Tice and Megan Shifflett.

Ullrich joins the Nittany Lions after two years at Purdue. In her sophomore season with the Boilermakers, Ullrich started all 35 matches at defensive specialist and served up 24 aces to rank second on the team.

"Jessica played a significant role at Purdue and I thought their staff did a great job with her," said Rose. "She possesses a great serve, is a good passer and has experience playing at a higher level."

Tice and Shifflett are both young back row players who did not see a lot of action in their freshman season. Coach Rose knows he can count on them for hard work and a positive attitude.

"Heather and Megan are similar," said Rose. "They're greatest attribute is their energy and positive feel for the team. They work hard, they care about the team and are always engaged with what's going on."

A Familiar Face

Joining the staff this season is 2006 Penn State graduate Kaleena Davidson, formerly Kaleena Walters. A libero for Coach Rose from 2002-2005, Davidson was a Big Ten Defensive Player of the year and still holds the career record for digs (1,957). She returns to Happy Valley after three years as an assistant coach at the College of Charleston.

"Kaleena was a great player for us," said Rose. "But more importantly, she was a loyal and loving Penn Stater. She wanted to be here and every day you could feel the energy about her. I'm confident that she'll be able to not only work with the players in their skill development and recruiting, but provide energy and confidence that's necessary for teams to continue to grow."

Davidson joins fourth year assistant coach Dennis Hohenshelt, second year Director of Volleyball Operations Nate Kitrush and volunteer assistant coach Adam Jarrett.

"Dennis continues to evolve and make my job easier all the time," said Rose. "Nate is strong in the technical area with breaking down video, and I'm pleased to have A.J. as my volunteer again. We're fortunate to have him albeit on a limited basis. It's good for the players to see a person as passionate as A.J. who's volunteering his time to help them achieve their goals."

The Schedule

Heading into the season, Coach Rose knows that every team the Nittany Lions face is going to want to be the team that beats Penn State. That's a fact that he respects and embraces. Last year's team set the bar very high, but this is a new season with a new team that has a new set of goals.

"Players come and go in college," said Rose. "You don't have to try and reinvent the wheel to do some things differently or to showcase the players you have returning. We're going to try to compete at the highest level possible. Coaching is about finding the best opportunity to win with what you have and we're going to lead this group in a way that enhances all of their potential."

"The Focus is on the team and having the right players, not always the best players." – Russ Rose

Head Coach Russ Rose

RUSS
ROSE

31st Year at Penn State
Career Record: 963-159

Alma Mater: George Williams, 1975

Heading one of the most successful programs in the country, Russ Rose passes along the confidence and character he has gained during his tenure in Happy Valley.

It is a confidence not gleaned from the shine of numerous trophies and accolades bestowed upon the coach and the program, though no one would question if it was. In 30 seasons at Penn State, Rose has collected wins at a staggering pace. Never having posted less than 22 wins in a season, he enters the 2009 season as the NCAA leader in career winning percentage, having won more than 85% of the matches he has coached at Penn State. In 2007, Rose became only the third active Division I head coach to surpass the 900 career wins milestone. His teams have collected three national titles and 12 Big Ten championships in 18 years within the league, all while entrenching the Nittany Lions among the elite programs in the nation.

While he doesn't focus on personal accolades, Rose's accomplishments read like a laundry list of volleyball awards. In 2007 Rose was one of three coaches inducted into the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) Hall of Fame and was also named the AVCA Division I National Coach of the Year, the AVCA Mideast Region Coach of the Year and the Big Ten Coach of the Year by both the coaches and the media. He garnered all three awards again in 2008 in leading his team to its third NCAA title. In response to the awards, Rose focused the praise back on his teams.

"It's a great honor to be recognized by the governing organization of your sport," he said with regards to the Hall of Fame induction. "It's an individual award given to a coach of a team sport, so it's a reflection of the great players and staff, and the commitment the university has made to give us an opportunity to compete at a high level and have success."

Others also realize the impact that Rose has had on the volleyball community, not only in Pennsylvania but across the country.

"Halls of Fame are reserved for those who have done exceptional work for a long, long time," said AVCA Executive Director Kathy DeBoer. "These candidates are the best of the best, and credit Russ Rose with putting Penn State and the East on the volleyball map. His national championships, his remarkable string of elite teams and his parade of homegrown All-Americans have all contributed to making volleyball a national sport."

It was four of those homegrown All-Americans that aided Rose and the Nittany Lions down the long road to capturing the NCAA National Championship in 2007 by outlasting Stanford in five games in Sacramento, Calif. Juniors Nicole Fawcett and Christa Harmotto and sophomore Megan Hodge earned AVCA First Team All-America honors while sophomore Alisha Glass picked up AVCA Second Team All-America accolades, and it was those four who were the core of the Lion arsenal. Penn State finished the year with a 34-2 record and did not lose a contest after Sept. 15, dropping only 18 games in the entire season. The Nittany Lions ended the season ranked first in the country in hitting percentage, attacking at a Big Ten-record clip of .350, good for second all-time in the Penn State annals. The Nittany Lions also continued their dominance of the Big Ten, posting a perfect 20-0 record and capturing their unprecedented fifth consecutive outright conference title, a feat never before accomplished by a volleyball squad. Harmotto earned Big Ten Player of the Year honors by annihilating the conference record for hitting percentage. She attacked at a .492 clip for the year to top the previous record of .455 set in 1986.

The Nittany Lions improved upon 2007's result not just by winning their third national title, but becoming only the sixth team to win back-to-back national titles and only the fourth team to manage it while going undefeated. The 2008 squad led by six AVCA All-Americans, including first team honorees Christa Harmotto, Nicole Fawcett (AVCA National Player of the Year), Alisha Glass and Megan Hodge and second team honorees Blair Brown and Arielle Wilson, finished the season with a perfect 38-0 record. The Nittany Lions won a record-breaking 111 straight sets on their way to the title, and enter 2009 on a NCAA record-breaking 64-match winning streak. The Lions finished 2008 setting a rally era record for hitting percentage with a mark of .390. It's the second-highest percentage of all time for any era. Penn State once again dominated the Big Ten finishing with a 20-0 record for the fifth time. The squad had five First Team All-Big Ten honorees and Fawcett was named PSU's 18th Big Ten Player of the Year.

Rose has a 30-year Penn State record of 963-159 (.858), making him the winningest active Division I coach.

Rose's Coaching Honors

- 2007 AVCA Hall of Fame Inductee
- 2005 USA Volleyball All-Time Great Coach Honoree
- 2000 United States Olympic Committee Coach of the Year
- Four-time AVCA Coach of the Year
1990, 1997, 2007, 2008
- Three-time Volleyball Monthly Coach of the Year
1990, 1993, 1999
- Six-time NCAA Mideast Region Coach of the Year
1990, 1992, 1993, 1994, 2007, 2008
- Ten-time Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year
1992, 1993, 1996, 1997 (co), 1998, 2003 (co), 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008
- District II Coach of the Year
1996
- Six-time Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year
- Our-time Northeast Region Coach of the Year

In 2003, Rose celebrated 25 years of coaching at Penn State. He was honored with a bench outside of the post office sponsored by the Penn State Booster Club and surprised with a gathering of more than 40 former players and members of the program, who offered their thoughts and insights on Rose and his career.

"It was my sophomore year when he said 'When you leave this gym, when you finish your career, every day you leave here, you should feel like you gave 110 percent,'" said former player Christy Cochran (1995-98). "And that's exactly it. If you put your career in his hands, you'll be great."

Rose's influence in the lives of his former players is evident. "I truly miss him," said four-time All-American Bonnie Bremner (1996-99). "I don't even miss playing, I just miss seeing him every day."

However, even with all of his success on the court, Rose does not reflect on past successes. "Fans can get spoiled very quickly in athletics and that's a problem," Rose said. "It's not easy to be successful in anything and when people get accustomed to specific results, it sometimes loses its effect on the players and they forget what it really takes to succeed and how important the journey really should be to their development. The challenge is in getting players who want to become good and are willing to work instead of attending a school because the team is good."

Instead, Rose addresses each new team and season on its own terms and his confidence lies in the ability and work ethic of his current players and coaching staff.

"I'm not much of a believer in predicting a team's level of success," Rose said. "I can only state that we're going to do our best. If we're good enough to win matches then we're going to win matches, but if we lose it's never going to be because we didn't prepare and work hard and it's not going to be because we rested on our program's previous laurels."

For a good example of this statement, look no further than the 1999 season. Following two consecutive campaigns which saw the Lions reach the title match of the NCAA Tournament only to fall in defeat, the team returned to the NCAA Tourney finale in 1999 and captured the first National Championship in the program's history with a 3-0 sweep over top-ranked Stanford. The 1999 season also saw Rose lead Penn State to its second-consecutive 20-0 record in Big Ten play (and fourth straight conference title), becoming the first team in conference history to pull off the feat. In addition, the 1999 Nittany Lions extended their NCAA record home-match winning streak to 80 straight (extended to 87 in 2000), eclipsing the previous standard of 58 set by Florida from 1990-94. The Lions streak was finally put to a halt at 87 matches with a loss versus Minnesota on Sept. 29, 2000. Penn State had last dropped a match at Rec Hall on Nov. 24, 1994, when they suffered a 3-2 setback to Illinois, a span of over five seasons.

After posting a runner-up finish in 1997, the Lions made it back to the NCAA Championship match in 1998. The team cruised through the regular season with a 30-0 mark, with 28 of those coming in three games. Penn State also became only the second school to close out the Big Ten schedule with a perfect 20-0 mark.

After winning its fifth Big Ten title, Penn State hosted the NCAA First and Second Rounds and the Central Regional. They swept past Bucknell, Clemson, Louisville and Brigham Young to earn a spot in the school's fourth national semifinal. Once they reached Madison, Wis., the season ended much like 1997. Penn State defeated Nebraska 3-1 to advance to the national championship match. And once again, the Lions had to rally from a 0-2 deficit to force a fifth game only to come up short against Long Beach State for the NCAA title.

However, perhaps nowhere has Rose's infusion of confidence been more evident than in the two other years when he led an inexperienced team with one starting senior and a rookie setter deep into the postseason.

In 1996, the Lions started out 15-0, before finishing the regular season with a 29-2 mark and a share of the Big Ten title, Rose's third in six seasons in the conference.

The squad that took the court in the NCAA tournament was comprised of one senior, one junior, one sophomore and three freshmen. That talented group came two points from knocking off Nebraska at home, in a match to go to the national semifinal. Penn State finished the campaign with a 31-3 record and a final ranking of No. 5. Half of those starters, Bonnie Bremner, Angie Kammer and Terri Zemaitis, earned All-America honors, while Bremner became Rose was inducted into the AVCA Hall of Fame, held in conjunction with the 2007 NCAA National Championship in Sacramento.

Penn State's first Big Ten Freshman of the Year for her play at setter.

The 1995 squad posted a 27-8 record and a No. 8 final national ranking. Rose's ability to convey a belief in his players and to instill an uncompromising work ethic led to the Nittany Lions' sixth straight appearance in the NCAA Regionals and a third-place finish in the Big Ten. Along the way he guided Penn State's third Big Ten Player of the Year in just five seasons in the conference as sophomore Zemaitis captured the award.

"I want the players to have a good experience — I want them to enjoy the many opportunities available at Penn State, but clearly I want them to know that they've come to a competitive, disciplined program and we're going to work hard," Rose said. "And without question have some fun along the way."

"I have been coaching here for a long time, but I don't want to take the major responsibility for the program's success because I know one thing for sure, and that is you can't get where we are today without the total support of the administration. You need to have good leadership and financial support to compete with the nation's elite." — Russ Rose

"We're not fanatics, and I want the players to be happy. It goes without saying that it is easier to be happy when you're winning than when you're losing."

So, the staff will have to provide them with the necessary direction and opportunities and hope they remain healthy enough to see if we can make a run at winning as many matches as possible."

That is something that has never been a problem for the coach. In his 30 seasons at Penn State, Rose's record is 963-159, an .858 winning percentage that places him first nationally among active coaches. His squads have secured 30 or more wins in a season 21 times and 36 or more victories six times.

In 1994, Rose coached the Nittany Lions to a second straight NCAA national semifinal appearance and picked up his 500th career win early in the season. Placing second in the Big Ten with a 17-3 conference mark, the Nittany Lions posted a 31-4 ledger on the year and ended the regular-season ranked No. 5, at the time their highest regular-season finish ever. Season highlights included beating national runner-up and perennial powerhouse UCLA at the Volleyball Monthly Invitational and stunning No. 1-ranked and undefeated Nebraska in Lincoln in front of a full house at the NCAA Midwest Regional final to advance to their second straight national semifinal.

Rose's athletes have earned 55 First Team All-Big Ten honors in 18 years and have excelled off the court as well, earning 120 Academic All-Big Ten accolades.

Rose added to an already crowded trophy case by picking up the NCAA Midwest Region Coach of the Year honor for the fourth time.

Still, Rose has had more to do with Penn State's success on the court than he's willing to admit.

"I think that it's a reflection of my years of service and the caliber and commitment of players and staff we've attracted in the past," Rose said. "When you retire from coaching, people will look and see the success you had, but I'd like to be evaluated on the success of my players, their feel for their experience at Penn State and the growth that the program has had from the time I arrived here. We had three in-state scholarships and hand-me-down basketball jerseys when I arrived at Penn State. I think that's more of a reflection of what I was hoping to accomplish when I entered the profession."

Yet, the on-the-court accomplishments do speak volumes. In 1993, another dream season, the Nittany Lions surged into their third year of Big Ten play and won their second consecutive conference title. At the NCAA Tournament, the team strung together four victories and earned the right to play for the National Championship against Long Beach State. Rose puts the success in proper perspective.

"There are a large number of excellent coaches at great schools that have yet to break into the national semifinals. There are a small number of teams that have made it there, and fewer yet that have reached the final match. I won't look at it (reaching the final match) other than it was a great ride that the players took us on and it reinforced that there's validity to how I've run the program here at Penn State.

"The players need to understand what it takes to be successful and they need to have fun. We showed that winning can be fun and that it isn't necessary to change in a stressful environment. Every team starts with the same dream but few programs can really talk about competing for a chance to win a National Championship."

Rose's formula for success was recognized by the media and his coaching peers when he garnered the triple-crown of coaching accolades in 1993 as he did in 1990. Volleyball Monthly named Rose the National Coach of the Year and he also was picked as the NCAA Midwest Region and the Big Ten Conference Coach of the Year.

It was the second time Rose was honored nationally (1990), and the second straight year the Big Ten voted for the Nittany Lion leader. In addition, he was awarded Northeast Region Coach of the Year four times, the Atlantic 10 Conference Coach of the Year six times and was District II's top coach in 1996.

"Coach is a great guy," confided three time All-American Salima (Davidson) Rockwell, who spent time as the captain and starting setter on the U.S. National Team. "He's very straight-forward and to the point, which is what I like. The thing about him is that you can talk to him and he can help you with any problems you might have. Then, on the court, he's all business. I like that combination."

So does former Nittany Lion outside hitter and former volunteer assistant coach Jen Reimers. "You learn how to be a better person and a better player," she said about Rose's teaching ability. "You learn how to work with everybody else."

"I like the fact that he comes out and tells you exactly how it is," said Penn State All-American Laura Cook (1991-94). "He bases a lot of our experience on the court to life and life after volleyball."

"I really enjoyed the experience I had while playing for Coach Rose," said All-American Katie Schumacher (1998-01). "I learned a lot, both on and off the court. He is a great teacher and is well-respected around the nation."

Many athletes have thrived under Rose's tutelage as witnessed by the 28 different All-Americans (earning 58 selections in all) and 25 first team All-Big Ten players (earning 55 selections in all) he has coached. In 1999, Lauren Cacciamani was named Big Ten Player of the Year, the Big Ten Female Athlete of the Year and the Honda Award winner. Bonnie Bremner and Katie Schumacher joined Cacciamani as All-Big Ten selections in 1999. Bremner won back-to-back Big Ten Player of the Year honors in 1997 and 1998. Amanda Rome and Carrie Schonveld were recognized with honorable mention All-Big Ten status, while Mishka Levy was named to the conference's All-Freshman squad. Penn State also placed six players on the Academic All-Big Ten Team in 1999, as Bremner, Cacciamani, Kalna Miller, Schonveld, Rome and Dawn Ippolito were honored.

In 2000, Schumacher repeated as an All-Big Ten performer, while Levy earned first-team status for the initial time in her career. Amanda Rome was recognized with honorable mention all-conference status after helping lead Penn State to a 30-6 record and its 11th consecutive NCAA regional appearance in 2000. In addition, Rome, Ippolito, Shannon Bortner, Robyn Guokas, Erin Icceman and Hilary Sexton were named Academic All-Big Ten.

Even with its 22-8 season in 2001, Penn State advanced to the NCAA Tournament and garnered 20 wins in a season for the 26th straight year. Schumacher earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Levy picked up honorable mention accolades. Seven Lions earned Academic All-Big Ten recognition during the 2001 campaign. Rome, Icceman, Guokas, Bortner, Sexton, Tabitha Eshleman and Emily Gerega were all recognized for their scholastic and athletic achievements.

In 2002, Rose led a young squad with a freshman setter to a second place finish in the conference and the school's 22nd consecutive NCAA Tournament. Freshman Sam Tortorello earned Penn State's second ever Big Ten Freshman of the Year accolade and junior Cara Smith picked up second team All-America honors after leading the nation in hitting percentage for most of the season. The Nittany Lions also excelled in the classroom, with a conference-high nine athletes garnering Academic All-Big Ten honors.

The squad picked up its seventh Big Ten title in 2003 with a team that was picked to finish second in the conference preseason poll. Seniors Cara Smith and Erin Icceman and sophomore Sam Tortorello were named first team All-Big Ten on a squad that finished 17-3 in league play to earn its 23rd consecutive NCAA berth. Freshman Cassy Salyer earned Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors and Rose was honored with his sixth Big Ten Coach of the Year accolade. Penn State advanced to the NCAA Regional Final match at Florida, falling to the Gators in three games.

Smith, Tortorello and Icceman picked up AVCA All-America honors with Smith earning first team accolades, Tortorello being named to the second team and Icceman picking up honorable mention honors.

Head Coach Russ Rose

The Women's Volleyball Booster Club marked Rose's 25 years of coaching in 2003 by dedicating a bench, located outside of the post office on Fraser Street in State College.

Again picked to finish second in the Big Ten in 2004, Rose's squad ended the non-conference portion of their schedule with an unblemished 9-0 record that included a come-from-behind five-game victory at eventual-National Champion Stanford. Top-ranked Minnesota handed the Nittany Lions their first loss of the season in five games at Rec Hall and just five matches later, No. 7 Ohio State also defeated Penn State at home in five games. With a renewed sense of pride following the two losses at home, the Nittany Lions caught fire and won their next 11 matches, including four-game wins over the Gophers and Buckeyes. A three-game win at Michigan on Nov. 27 gave Rose and the Nittany Lions their eighth Big Ten title in 14 years and advanced them to their 24th consecutive NCAA Tournament, where they fell to UCLA at the NCAA Regional Semifinal in Seattle, Wash.

Sam Tortorello and Syndie Nadeau earned AVCA All-America honors as Tortorello was named to the first team and Nadeau picked up second team accolades. Libero Kaleena Walters joined Tortorello and Nadeau on the All-Big Ten squad as Kate Price was named the Big Ten Freshman of the Year. Tortorello was also a finalist for the Honda Award, given to the top female collegiate athlete in the country in each sport. Penn State produced four Academic All-Big Ten honorees that year.

The streak continued as the Nittany Lions claimed their third consecutive Big Ten title with an unblemished 20-0 league record in 2005, only the sixth time since 1985 that the champion had been perfect. In addition to dropping only three individual games during the conference season, Penn

Rose captured his 900th career win on Sept. 21, 2007, and was presented with a Lion statue by his son Nick, along with Director of Athletics Tim Curley and University President Dr. Graham Spanier.

State swept all four major honors. Rose earned his seventh Big Ten Coach of the Year award as Sam Tortorello was named the Player of the Year, Kaleena Walters earned Defensive Player of the Year honors and Nicole Fawcett was tabbed as the Freshman of the Year.

On the national scale, Fawcett earned AVCA National Freshman of the Year and AVCA Second Team All-America accolades as Tortorello was named an AVCA First Team All-American, Melissa Walbridge picked up Second Team honors and Walters and Christa Harmotto both earned honorable mention recognition. Tortorello was also a finalist for the Honda Award for the second time.

Penn State made league history with the 2006 season, capturing its fourth consecutive outright title, the first time in Big Ten annals one team had done so. The Nittany Lions finished with an 18-2 league record and an overall record of 32-3, falling to defending national champion Washington in Seattle, Wash., in the NCAA Regional Finals. Megan Hodge made some history of her own, becoming the first freshman in conference history to be named Big Ten Player of the Year, also earning AVCA First Team All-America honors along with being named Big Ten and AVCA National Freshman of the Year. Joining her in garnering conference and national recognition were Nicole Fawcett and Christa Harmotto, who both earned First Team All-Big Ten honors, as Fawcett was named an AVCA First Team All-American and Harmotto picked up Second Team accolades. The Nittany Lions also produced a league-best 10 Academic All-Big Ten honorees.

Prior to entering the tough Big Ten Conference in 1991, Penn State experienced unprecedented success in the Atlantic 10 Conference, winning eight straight championships. In seven seasons of round-robin play, the Nittany Lions never lost a conference match, reeling off 49 consecutive wins. The 1990 season was Penn State's last in the Atlantic 10 and it proved to be one of the most exciting in the 25-year history of the program.

Unbeaten in 42 regular-season matches, the Nittany Lions swept Purdue and Big Ten champion Wisconsin in the first two rounds of the NCAA Tournament. Of the team's 44 wins, 40 were sweeps, a school and national record. Penn State, 12-0 against NCAA Tournament teams, lost to Nebraska in four games in the Midwest Region championship match in Lincoln.

Rose was honored as the 2007 AVCA Coach of the Year, along with being recognized for his 900 career wins and his induction into the AVCA Hall of Fame, all in December in Sacramento.

Penn State finished sixth in the final 1990 Tachikara Coaches Poll, the program's highest final ranking ever at the time and the AVCA and Volleyball Monthly named three Nittany Lions —Jo Ann Elwell, Michelle Jaworski and Noelle Zientara — All-Americans.

An 11-time nominee for National Coach of the Year, Rose garnered the Atlantic 10 Coach of the Year award in 1984, '85, '87, '88, '89 and '90.

Throughout his career, Rose has been called upon to share his expertise with the coaches and players who represent the United States in international competition. In 1989, he was an assistant coach with the United States men's national team for an exhibition series with Canada and the Soviet Union. His work on the international scene was to have continued in July of that year, but personal commitments and time constraints prevented him from accepting the position as head coach of the U.S. women's team to the Maccabiah Games.

In 1990, Rose worked with members of the men's national and developmental teams during training camp in San Diego. In 1993, he assisted in the U.S. men's matches with Canada and the women's team against China. He also assisted with the U.S. men as they prepared for the 2000 Olympics in Sydney.

In the summer of 2002, Rose assisted the U.S. men's team on a 13-day tour of Italy where the athletes competed against the world's top teams, including Brazil, Italy, Yugoslavia, Russia and Holland. He also served as team manager for the U.S. men's team at the Four Nations Tournament in Leipzig, Germany, in May of 2008.

An instructor in the USVBA coaches certification program, Rose has previously served as a national referee and evaluator and state director for volleyball for the Special Olympics.

In 2005, USA Volleyball named Rose one of their All-Time Great Coaches, making him the first Big Ten coach to ever receive the honor and putting him in the company of the best volleyball coaches in history, including previous Olympic coaches as well as many of their peers.

Rose was a member of the NCAA Division I Volleyball Committee for six years and the NCAA representative to the United States Volleyball Association Rules Committee.

Rose served as head coach of the U.S. men's team, which won the bronze medal at the 1985 Maccabiah Games, and the U.S. women's silver medal team in the 1981 Maccabiah Games. He won bronze medals as an assistant coach of the women's team in the 1982 National Sports Festival and as the East women's head coach at the 1983 Festival.

An active clinician, Rose also coached professional men's volleyball in the Superior League in Puerto Rico in 1976 and has continued to do clinics on the island as well as in the United States.

Players are not the only ones to benefit from Rose's tutelage. More than 25 individuals within the college coaching fraternity have gained instruction from Rose.

A 1975 graduate of George Williams College, Rose was a member of the school's team that won the 1974 National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics national championship. He was the captain of the 1975 team that finished third in NAIA competition.

After graduation, Rose remained at George Williams for two years as a part-time coach, helping the women's team win two state titles and place sixth in national competition. He also assisted the men's team that won the national championship in 1977.

In 1978, he completed his master's degree at Nebraska, where he was the defensive coach for the Cornhusker women. While writing his thesis on volleyball statistics, he led the second team to a two-year varsity mark of 52-5.

In 1986, Rose married Lori Barberich, a former three-time All-American at Penn State. They are the parents of four sons, Jonathan, Michael, Christopher and Nicholas.

The Rose Coaching Philosophy

Russ Rose has taken Penn State from the regionally competitive level to that of an NCAA power since he took over the Penn State women's volleyball program in 1979. The development has been complete and successful, because of excellent talent and an equally sound method.

Following is "The Rose Coaching Philosophy:"

Coach's role

"I believe the coach has numerous roles that require constant review and attention. First, and foremost, is the recruitment of quality student-athletes. With effective coaching, student-athletes have always been the key to a team's success."

"Secondly, we as a staff have to relate to the players what we feel is important for their growth and success. All the knowledge in the world will prove to be useless if we can't prepare our team for competition. We've shown this to be one of our strengths. I have great confidence that Dennis and Kaleena, having played for me, understand me and the program, and Nate with his technical background, I know they will do whatever it takes to help the players improve and pursue their dreams."

"Third, we have to prepare the team, physically, tactically and mentally. The physical preparation is easy, as the entire Penn State environment encourages the pursuit of excellence as shown by our years of high finishes in the Director's Cup results. The fact that five of our fall sports teams have won Big Ten titles more than reinforces that school of thought. The mental aspect of our players' development is one of the areas that I feel has separated us from our competition. We are committed as a group to reaching the highest levels possible - year in and year out. The team understands the need to be accountable, and I'm not hesitant to get their focus headed in the right direction."

"Certainly our time in the Big Ten has demonstrated to us the importance of making sure that the players are aware of what is going to be expected of them in a conference as strong as the Big Ten. It's been the strongest conference in the country as determined by the RPI and has led the nation in attendance for a number of years."

"Outside the Big Ten, we commit to play a competitive non-conference schedule. We continually strive to meet teams during the regular-season that have advanced in the national championship playoffs. It is a goal of mine for Penn State to always be in the top five in strength of schedule."

"I contend that the best way to see where our team is and where we aspire to be, is to play the nation's best teams. Our administration has allowed us to compete annually for the national championship. Universities enable teams to compete for the national championship. I have been blessed to have an administration that possessed the vision to support our program and I feel we have been able to deliver. It starts at the top with a University President and Athletic Director and staff who guide and assist the program."

"I think our role here is to attract the type of player who wants to be at Penn State, understands what we are about and knows what it will take to fit into our program. I refuse to be in the position where we are going to be saying one thing to get a player interested in Penn State and then change our story once the athlete arrives on campus. I am interested in players who are willing to be up front, committed and passionate in what they see in their own development and what we can do to help them succeed."

"Over the years I have been contacted by numerous schools as well as the U.S. National Team and foreign professional teams regarding recent coaching positions, however I feel that the support I receive from the administration at Penn State is perfect for me, and I have no interest in coaching anywhere but Penn State."

Team Play

"Team play really deals with volleyball being the ultimate team sport. The last few years, we've not only had outstanding talent but we've had a great team spirit. Talent can get you only so far. If players aren't working together and trying to achieve great things, sacrificing and willing to embrace the needs of the team, then the team isn't going to shine. I don't guarantee recruits that we're going to win a conference championship or play for a national championship, albeit our goals should be along those lines. I guarantee them they're going to get better, be treated fairly and will have an opportunity to play."

"The team that is willing to emphasize the pursuit of excellence at its own personal expense is the team that most often succeeds. Our success over the years, where we have won numerous conference titles and advanced to the national semifinal and championship matches, continues to reinforce these beliefs. 1999's, 2007's and 2008's National Championships were clearly the icing on the cake. A National Championship does not validate a coach or their program. It highlights the efforts of many and allows the community to celebrate the actions of the team. Our goal is to remain at that level and even if we fall short, we know that we are in the game. The pursuit is the challenge and getting to the final match is the reward."

Fundamentals

"Fundamentals and the player's development of them are the most important aspect of the game. The game is played by players who have to be able to execute the basic skills of the game. We try to recruit student-athletes who are great volleyball players but the game always comes down to the execution of the core fundamentals. I will not sacrifice the time necessary to develop a strong foundation. This is where a team's discipline and confidence is first introduced and developed. Our commitment to each team is for every one of our players to be challenged to become the best they can be every day. I know our players are constantly improving their game here. I can't guarantee victories but I can guarantee a player will improve at Penn State, and that is evidenced by the number of athletes who have received individual awards or chosen to further their careers with the national team or elect to play professionally."

Team Defense

"Team defense is always an area we pride ourselves on and has always been one of the staples of our program. The pursuit of the ball in a game can only occur through preparation and repetition. I believe that everyone in the program has to rally around certain principles. At Penn State, we play hard, controlled defense, which means every player pursues every ball or they are taken out. I believe if you train hard, then the game itself begins to appear easy. If a player starts making decisions on what ball they think they can get and what they think is somebody else's ball, that's when we try to make some adjustments and get someone else involved in the play. Our defensive philosophy is to keep every ball in play — every day of each season in practice as well as games. I believe we have shown this works over the long haul as well. Defense and winning are an attitude and we attempt to do the latter by emphasizing the former."

Student-Athlete

"The term student-athlete is a very valid one here at Penn State and in the Big Ten. We recruit not only quality athletes, but quality students as well. There is no question in my mind that the well-rounded individual will be better prepared to deal with the numerous challenges faced in life. The pro-

get a realistic view of what is really entailed with what we refer to as the 'Penn State Experience.' The campus, the environment and face of State College truly separates us from many of the other schools in the country as we exemplify the meaning of a 'college town.' The chemistry that exists between the team members is what has kept us competitive and the energy that exists between the university and the town of State College keeps the juices flowing. We want players that want to make a commitment to be the best that they can be. We also want players to be aware of grams available at Penn State are geared for success. The opportunity to pursue your potential, both academically and athletically, is in place and working well at Penn State. The student support services at Penn State and the job Jim Weaver does with our team is outstanding. It is a reflection of the entire athletic department's commitment to provide the necessary services for the student-athletes to pursue and achieve their dreams."

"I expect a commitment both to academics and athletics. I take great pride in the fact that every young woman who has entered our program and completed her playing eligibility has received her degree. Rankings of the 29 athletic programs on campus reveal that the women's volleyball team annually posts one of the highest cumulative grade-point averages. With proper emphasis on the importance of maintaining high academic standards, I know we will achieve continual success. At Penn State, we have had the most members of the Academic All-Big Ten team as a sport and an institution since joining the conference, and we take great pride in always have two or three academic all-Americans each year. That speaks volumes about our student-athletes as well as our academic advising staff."

The Big Ten Conference

"The Big Ten, in my opinion, continues to be one of the strongest conferences in the country in both fan support and performance. It is a conference that is totally committed to the pursuit of excellence. The opportunity to play volleyball in the Big Ten truly enhances our program. The excitement generated by the athletes and fans at matches is great for the sport. It continues to be a great environment in which to compete. The conference has been ranked No. 1 in the volleyball RPI ratings since 1998 and has been a national leader in attendance the past three years."

Penn State University

"Penn State as a school has been very fortunate and good for women's volleyball. I don't think there is another school in the country that has the support of everyone from the president of the university to the athletic director to the residents of State College. Our players really reap the benefits of being at Penn State. The university president routinely drops by practices and uses the players in university functions to help increase the visibility of the program and university. I am extremely optimistic on the future of Penn State women's volleyball and there is no place in the country I'd rather be than Penn State. The community has supported us during our development and the university's commitment is to be the best in everything it offers, from academics, music and the arts to athletics."

Recruiting

"Recruiting is the life blood of a program and a team. It is our goal to encourage quality student athletes to visit Penn State with their parents to the fact that I am looking for a level of accountability from them as well. I'm not looking for a situation where I'm going to spend 24 hours a day, seven days a week trying to monitor their lifestyles or get involved in preventing them from having a good time. I believe the college experience at this time in their lives is the greatest opportunity to have fun and explore. I think you live hard and play hard and at Penn State, the students have a great opportunity to have fun in multiple areas."

Staff

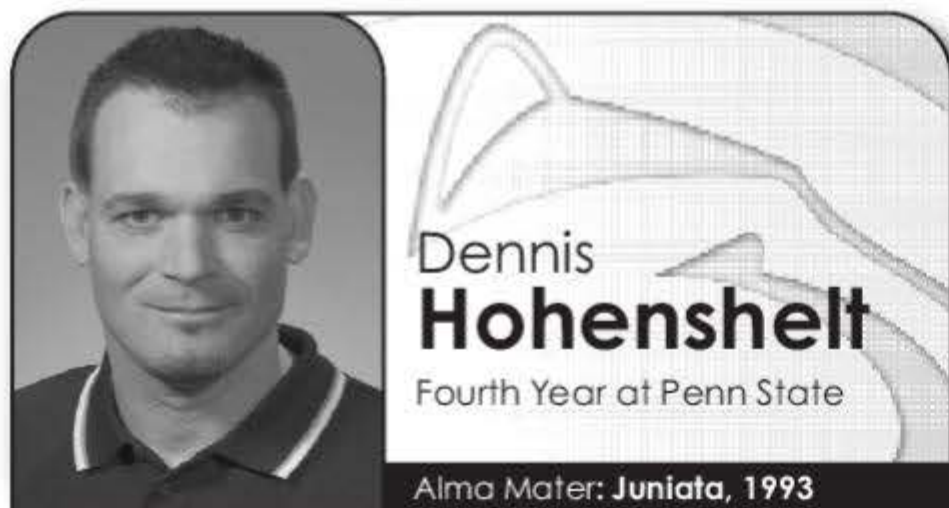

"I feel great about our staff. We are fortunate to have Dennis (Hohenshelt) and Kaleena Davidson. The position of Director of Volleyball Operations has also demonstrated the university's commitment to women's volleyball and I feel great about the addition of Nate Kitrush. His time in the Big Ten has allowed him to hit the ground running and his experience with the men's game is a great advantage. Some people would think that having people who are from their alma mater would be a negative but I see it as a positive. It's a positive thing to have people with experience involved because they know in this program, they are going to be encouraged to have an opinion and their opinions are going to be heard. I respect what my former players have to say and the players can turn to them and get good feedback and not be dependent on having to interact with me all of the time. The addition of Dennis from the men's side of the game brings a wealth of knowledge to our program and I know the players reap the benefits of interacting with him in the gym. An additional benefit that is important in our philosophy is that we try and look at the strengths of the players and how best to get them to contribute as well as continue to meet their goals. We think it's a tremendous bonus. We're one of five schools in the country who have had a men's and a women's team that have won a national championship and the only school outside of California that can make that claim and I think it's terrific that volleyball is on the map here year round. The interaction between the men's and women's programs here is exceptional. Both schools winning the National Title during the same academic year allows the sport to be valued here by our many fans and the great student support."

Booster Club

"Our Booster Club has been outstanding with everything we've asked them to be involved in. They funded our three foreign trips, they paid for our banquet and they follow us at home and on the road. They also provide a welcoming environment for the players away from home where they can go for dinner and can interact with people who are supportive of the program. The Boosters are incredibly welcoming. I always get comments from parents of recruits about how welcoming everyone is. I think that's a part of Penn State and State College and it's been a big part of our program."

Assistant Coach Dennis Hohenshelt

Dennis Hohenshelt

Fourth Year at Penn State

Alma Mater: Juniata, 1993

Dennis Hohenshelt begins his fourth season with the Penn State women's volleyball program after spending 10 seasons as the Nittany Lion men's volleyball assistant coach. Among other duties, Hohenshelt is involved in match preparation, player development and recruiting.

"Dennis continues to develop," said Rose. "I have great confidence in him in every aspect of the game. Most importantly, he's filling in areas that I don't have to focus on. I'm confident in his decision-making and trust him in the things we need to do to be successful. He comes from a different experience after 10 years with the men's team. He developed many great players who came in as raw talents. He has worked with our players particularly with their net skills and in blocking, making great contributions in those areas."

Under Hohenshelt's tutelage, freshman middle hitter Arielle Wilson was named the 2007 Big Ten Freshman of the Year and the University Park NCAA Regional Championship Most Outstanding Player. For the season, she attacked at a .446 clip while averaging 2.39 kills per game, and in Big Ten-only matches, Wilson became just the second freshman ever to lead the conference in blocks, averaging 1.78 blocks per game. In all matches, Wilson tallied 1.80 blocks per game, good for first on the team and third in the nation.

Hohenshelt aided the Penn State men's team in reaching the 2006 national championship match for the first time in 11 seasons, defeating then-No. 1 UC Irvine in five games in the national semifinal contest at Rec Hall. During his tenure with the men's team, Penn State accumulated an overall record of 237-82 (.743), including a 110-4 (.965) mark in the Eastern Intercollegiate Volleyball Association (EIVA) and nine EIVA titles and National Collegiate Championship appearances. He was also instrumental in recruiting the core of men's volleyball players who captured the 2008

NCAA National Championship.

Boasting a considerable amount of experience with USA Volleyball, Hohenshelt was a coaching assistant with the 2004 USA Boy's Youth National Team that won the NORCECA Zone gold medal. He was also the assistant coach for the USA Boy's Junior National Team during the summer of 2002 in Brazil and helped lead the U.S. Junior National Team to a third-place finish at the NORCECA Championships. He assisted with the U.S. Boy's Youth National Team in the summer of 1997 and scouted for the U.S. Men's National Team at the 1997 World Cup. He also aided at the tryouts for the U.S. Men's National and Junior National teams.

A native of Harrisburg, Pa., and a 1993 graduate of Juniata College, Hohenshelt led the Eagles to consecutive EIVA Division III titles in 1992 and 1993, earning Most Valuable Player accolades his senior year. After receiving his bachelor of science degree in secondary education and social studies, Hohenshelt served two years as an assistant coach for the Juniata men's program from 1994-95. He was promoted to head coach in 1996 and led the Eagles to an 18-8 record and a second place finish in the EIVA Division III Tournament.

Hohenshelt also was assistant coach at Huntingdon (Pa.) High School from 1993-1995.

He is married to the former Tara Rowlyk, who is an assistant coach for the Penn State women's lacrosse team. The couple has one son, Jacob, who was born in July of 2005.

Former Penn State women's volleyball Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year Kaleena Davidson begins her first season with the defending national champion Nittany Lions.

Davidson was the starting libero for the Nittany Lions from 2002-05 and still stands as the all-time career digs leader (1,957) as well as holding the top three single-season dig marks. She comes back to Penn State after spending the last two years as an assistant coach at the College of Charleston under head coach Jason Kepner, a former Nittany Lion men's volleyball All-American.

"Kaleena has hit the ground running," said Rose. "She's familiar with Penn State and has an awareness of how I run the program. She understands the expectations I have of both the staff and the players. I think she'll continue to make those sort of contributions. The great advantage of hiring some from Penn State is that they love Penn State and are committed to the program and the players. They want to make sure the player have everything they need to be successful both athletically and academically. She knows how I am and can be a buffer with young players when they need someone to help them handle the demands I place on my team."

A native of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., Davidson was a member of the College of Charleston staff whose teams captured two regular-season Southern Conference championships, also winning the tournament title in 2007 and advancing to the NCAA First Round. She coached six all-conference players and two Freshmen of the Year, also assisting in recruiting, player development, game management, team travel and budget along with the day to day management of the volleyball program.

"I am both excited and honored to be back at Penn State in this new role," said Davidson "I have always loved PSU and I am looking forward to contributing to the University and the program once again. It is a great opportunity for me to work with and learn from Coach Rose and (assistant coach) Dennis (Hohenshelt) and to help continue the great run of success that Penn State volleyball has had."

A 2005 AVCA Honorable Mention All-American and two-time First Team All-Big Ten selection, Davidson helped her Penn State squads to a four-year record of 116-19 and was a member of three Big Ten Championship squads, finishing with a league record of 69-11 and starting the current streak of six consecutive conference championships. Along with her single-season and career digs records, she also owns the single-match records for three, four and five games, setting a school record with 44 digs in a match against Minnesota on Oct. 2, 2004.

Davidson joins a team that returns four starters from last season's 38-0 National Champion team that set an NCAA record for consecutive games won at 111 and became the first team at any level of NCAA women's volleyball to close out the regular season without dropping an individual set.

Davidson, formerly Walters, and her husband Cameron reside in Bellefonte, Pa.

begins his second season with the Penn State women's volleyball team as the Director of Volleyball Operations and technical coordinator. His duties include team travel logistics and day-to-day organization as well as being the primary technical operator of the Data Volley and Data Video.

"We had a lot of people who were interested in our opening for Director of Volleyball Operations and Nate was the one who I thought best filled the needs that we had in the area of video and technical analysis," said head coach Russ Rose. "It was a very important hire for us and I have been very pleased with his focus and skills."

A 2008 graduate of IPFW, Kitrush was most recently an assistant coach for the IPFW men's volleyball team as well as a volunteer assistant coach with the Purdue women's volleyball team. With both squads his duties included opponent video analysis and breakdown, charting offensive and defensive tendencies, aiding with on-campus recruiting and a multitude of organizational responsibilities. Kitrush was also involved in the coaching aspect of the game with the Mastodons, helping the team to a berth in the NCAA National Semifinals in 2006.

Kitrush played for legendary IPFW men's coach Arnie Ball for one season before moving over to the managerial side and has also coached within the club ranks, helping the Munciana 17-1's squad to a third-place finish at the Junior Olympic Championship in 2005. He has been an active camp clinician since 2004, working with the IPFW and Purdue women's camps as well as the Ohio State men's camps. Kitrush has also been the coordinator for the IPFW alumni squad that annually participates in the USAV Adult Open Nationals.

A native of Fort Wayne, Ind., Kitrush began his volleyball career as a three-year letterwinner at Northrop High School. He was an all-conference and all-state honoree as a senior and helped lead the squad to the state tournament three times, including two appearances in the state finals.

begins her first season with the Penn State women's and men's volleyball teams as a certified athletic trainer. Her duties include injury and illness assessment, rehabilitation, therapeutic treatments and various manual therapies, as well as working closely with the team physicians and strength and conditioning staffs.

Saxton came to Penn State from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga where she earned her M.S. in Clinical Exercise Physiology. As a graduate assistant, Saxton worked with the Lady Moc softball and volleyball teams. During her time at UT Chattanooga, Saxton received first place recognition for her graduate research on eccentric scapulothoracic strengthening of female overhead athletes.

Prior to her time in Tennessee, Saxton spent four years earning a B.S. degree in Athletic Training at East Carolina University.

Saxton is a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA). She has worked with numerous action sport athletes, including BMX riders, skateboarders and gymnasts. In her spare time, Saxton enjoys mountain biking.

Formerly Kelly Jacob, Saxton married her husband John in August. They reside in State College.

Quoting Russ Rose

"Alisha has continued to progress every year. This year, in my mind, is her most important year. I'll judge her career on this year more than the other years because of the importance the position of setting has and how I think her leadership skills need to intermingle with the team. She's a terrific net player in that we never have to worry about what matchup we have from a blocking standpoint. She's a terrific blocker and competes hard. I'm sure her time with USA Volleyball this summer will show up in her performance this year."

Glass' Expectations

"I expect to take on the challenges that exist in my final season at Penn State. Leadership is key in our attempt to set the bar high and exceed our expectations. Chemistry will be crucial in combining all the new elements of the team this year. I am very excited at the possibilities that exist and want to finish my season and career with a win."

Quoting Russ Rose

"Nummy has played a key role in our two national championships and during her first two seasons continues to show great leadership with the team and focus on what the team's needs are to continue to contribute. I think she's going to be in the mix to be the libero or a key back row player. But most important, I think she's one of our main leaders on the team. To me, that's the most important thing. I don't care who plays, but I care who can lead and there's no question that she's prepared for that that."

D'Errico's Expectations

"I love the team chemistry we've formed in the off season and the experiences we've shared. This season is going to be a dog fight, but we're all in it together with one goal in mind."

Nittany Lions By Month

Penn State is 29-4 (.879) all-time during the month of August. Its first two losses came during the inaugural NACWAA in 1995 when Nebraska swept the Lions, and in the 1999 NACWAA when Florida outlasted Penn State 3-2 in the opening round. The Lions fell to UCLA in the first round of the NACWAA in 2000 and fell to defending national champion Stanford in the first round of the AVCA/NACWAA Showcase in 2005, hosted by the Qwest Center in Omaha, Neb.

Penn State is 323-49-4 (.859) all-time during the month of September. Amazingly, the Lions are 147-10 during September dating back to the 1995 season and 62-4 (.939) over the last five years.

The Lions are 353-64 (.847) all-time during the month of October. Penn State has posted a 88-11 (.889) mark in October over the last 10 seasons and 41-3 (.943) in the last four years.

Penn State is 254-54 (.825) all-time during the month of November, including a 104-8 (.929) mark over the last 10 seasons. The Lions had a six-year streak from 1995-2000 where they did not lose a match in the month, and over the last six seasons, Penn State has a 50-1 (.980) mark in November.

Quick Sets

- During a period from Oct. 16, 1996 to Nov. 9, 2001, Penn State had won 139 consecutive matches when taking a 2-0 lead. Since joining the Big Ten for the 1991 season, Penn State has played in 623 total matches, winning 553. Amazingly, 447 of those 553 wins, or 81%, have been three-game sweeps. Over the last five years, Penn State has won 139 of its 164 victories in three games (85%), including 37 out of 38 (98%) in 2008.

- Over the last 13 years, the Lions have lost only 45 matches. And of those 17 teams that defeated the Lions – Brigham Young, Florida, Illinois, Long Beach State, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio State, USC, Stanford, Temple, Tennessee, UCLA, Washington and Wisconsin – only eight of these teams (Nebraska, Stanford, Ohio State, Wisconsin, UCLA, Minnesota, Florida and Michigan State) have been able to beat Penn State a third time. The Lions have compiled a 181-45 (80%) mark in the last 13 years versus these teams.

vs. Michigan	25-2	vs. Stanford	6-4
vs. Northwestern	24-2	vs. Michigan State	23-3
vs. Wisconsin	21-6	vs. Ohio State	21-6
vs. Florida	2-3	vs. UCLA	3-3
vs. Nebraska	3-3	vs. Minnesota	22-5
vs. Long Beach State	0-1	vs. Southern California	1-1
vs. Illinois	25-2	vs. Temple	0-1
vs. Brigham Young	5-1	vs. Tennessee	0-1
vs. Washington	0-1

Since joining the Big Ten Conference for the 1991 season, Penn State has racked up an impressive 317-43 (.881) record in league matches – the best mark of any Big Ten team over that 18-year span.

- The Big Ten Conference was among the top in the nation with five teams included in the 2008 NCAA Championship bracket. The league led the nation with four top-10 seeds in No. 1 Penn State, No. 6 Minnesota, No. 9 Illinois and No. 10 Purdue. 2008 marked the 18th time in conference history that the Big Ten had five or more teams selected to the NCAA Championship. The conference sent a record eight teams to the NAAs in 1999 and 2002, boasted seven NCAA participants in 1995, 2003, 2004 and 2006, and sent six squads in 1994, 1997, 1998, 2000, 2001, 2005 and 2007. In the 27-year history of the event, the Big Ten has had five or more teams selected to the bracket on 18 occasions. The Big Ten holds an overall NCAA Championship record of 215-126 (.630) dating back to 1983, and in 2008 tallied a record of 13-4.

- The Big Ten's .765 winning percentage in the 2008 NCAA Championship bested the conference's previous record of .706, set in 2007. The conference has boasted a combined winning percentage of .600 or higher in 14 of the last 17 years and a .500 or better record in each for the last 18 tournaments.

- The Big Ten has recorded 10 or more wins in the last six NCAA Championships, including 2008, finishing with a 13-4 record. Overall, Big Ten squads have combined for 10 or more NCAA wins on 11 occasions, including each of the last six seasons.
- Including 2008, six different Big Ten schools have combined to reach the national semifinals 15 times, including three schools making seven total appearances in the championship game. Of the five squads selected to the 2008 bracket, Penn State and Minnesota have combined to reach the national semifinals on seven occasions with six championship game appearances.
- The Penn State/Michigan matchup in the 2007 NCAA Regional semifinal marked the 12th occasion in which two Big Ten teams faced each other in NCAA Championship play. Of the nine teams that have been presented with the matchup over the years, Penn State holds the best record of intraconference NCAA play at 5-1, followed by Illinois (2-1), Wisconsin (2-1), Minnesota (1-1), Ohio State (2-4), Iowa (0-1), Michigan (0-1), Michigan State (0-1) and Purdue (0-1). No Big Ten Schools met in the 2008 NCAA Tournament.
- Five Big Ten volleyball teams finished ranked in the top 25 of the CSTV/AVCA Coaches Poll. Penn State led the Big Ten contingent at No. 1, followed by No. 11 Illinois, No. 14 Minnesota, No. 15 Purdue and No. 17 Michigan.
- Five Big Ten student-athletes earned NCAA Regional All-Tournament honors in 2008. In the University Park Region, Penn State's Nicole Fawcett, Alisha Glass and Christa Harmotto were honored as Nittany Lion Megan Hodge took home Most Outstanding Player accolades. Illinois' Laura DeBruler also earned all-tournament honors at the University Park Regional.
- Five league schools placed among the Top 30 in the country in volleyball attendance in 2008. Wisconsin ranked third with an average of 4,349, Minnesota sat fourth with an average of 3,329, Penn State ranked sixth with an average of 2,723, Purdue was eighth with an average of 2,485, Michigan State sat 11th with an average of 2,344, Illinois ranked 27th with an average of 1,345, Ohio State ranked 29th with an average of 1,276 and Michigan rounded out the Top 30 at 30th with an average of 1,273.
- The Big Ten placed five teams in the top 30 of the NCAA's final RPI report, including three in the top 10. Penn State led at No. 1, followed by No. 6 Illinois, No. 7 Minnesota, No. 11 Purdue and No. 16 Michigan. With five teams in the top 30, the Big Ten was second behind the Pac-10 for the largest representation by any conference.
- The Big Ten produced three American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) National Players of the Week during the 2008 season. Penn State's Alisha Glass picked up her third career honor on Nov. 18.
- Eleven Big Ten players earned AVCA All-America honors for the 2008 season, including a record-setting five First Team selections. Penn State led the way with four first team honorees in Nicole Fawcett, Alisha Glass, Christa Harmotto and Megan Hodge. They were joined by Purdue's Stephanie Lynch. Nittany Lions Blair Brown and Arielle Wilson joined Illinois' Laura DeBruler, Michigan's Lexi Zimmerman and Minnesota's Brook Dieter on the second team. Minnesota's Lauren Gibbemeyer earned third-team recognition, while her teammate Christine Tan and Indiana's Erica Short were honorable mention honorees.
- Since the NCAA started sponsoring volleyball in 1981, only two teams in the country have appeared in all 28 tournaments. Penn State joins Stanford as the elite programs to accomplish the feat. The Nittany Lions have compiled an overall record of 60-25 (.706) in the NCAA Tournament, including 12 trips to the NCAA Regional Final, seven trips to the NCAA Semifinals (1993, 1994, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2007, 2008) and three national championships (1999, 2007, 2008).
- Ten Big Ten student-athletes were named ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District, the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) announced. Penn State's Christa Harmotto (First Team) and Megan Hodge (First Team) were honored, along with Purdue's Kristen Arthurs (First Team), Stephanie Lynch (Second Team) and Danita Merlau (Second Team). Michigan's Beth Karplak, Ohio State's Chelsea Noble and Illinois' Johannah Bangert were all second team honorees, while Iowa's Emily Hilza (First Team) and Kiley Fister (Third Team) also earned recognition. Harmotto went on to earn First Team Academic All-America Honors and be named the Academic All-American of the Year for volleyball, while Hodge garnered Second Team Academic All-America accolades.

2008 SEASON IN REVIEW

Highlights
Final Stats & Box Scores

No. 1 Penn State Tops No. 2 Stanford for Second Straight NCAA Title

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 20, 2008

— The top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team capped a record-setting season for its second consecutive NCAA title Saturday night with a three-game win over No. 2 Stanford (25-20, 26-24, 25-23) at the Qwest Center in Omaha, Neb. The Nittany Lions finish the 2008 campaign with a perfect 38-0 record, only the fourth team ever in Division I women's volleyball history to finish the season with an unblemished slate.

"I don't think it was the prettiest match to determine the national championship, but it was a match that was played very hard by both teams," said Penn State head coach Russ Rose, the 2008 AVCA National Coach of the Year. "I thought we hung in there defensively and gave ourselves opportunities for a chance for Megan to take big swings at the end. I thought it was a group effort in a lot of areas. It certainly wasn't a match that had the same energy from the match a couple of nights ago. That one had the significance to get us here. Tonight's has special significance, especially for the seniors."

Stanford took the 3-0 lead to start the match, but a Harmotto and Brown block along with two Harmotto kills helped pull Penn State within two at 6-4. The Nittany Lions trailed for much of the game, but forced two Stanford timeouts to steal the momentum. PSU went on to win the game, 25-20, and senior Christa Harmotto led the way with five kills and two blocks.

Penn State jumped out to the early lead in game two and held on to take a 2-0 lead in the match. Penn State had a 12-9 advantage midway through the frame, but a Stanford kill and block again trimmed the Lion lead to one at 12-11. The squads traded points before a Cardinal kill and block put Stanford up 14-13. Penn State kills from Blair Brown and Megan Hodge put the Lions ahead 15-14 heading into the television timeout. Penn State maintained the lead for the remainder of the set, but Stanford didn't let the Lions go unchallenged. A Stanford kill and a Lion attack error tied the score 24-24 before kills from Nicole Fawcett and Hodge gave Penn State the game, 26-24.

A monster Harmotto and Brown block gave the Nittany Lions the 3-1 lead in the third game, but Stanford tied the game at 3-3. The Lions controlled the set until Stanford recorded three kills to pull within two at 23-21 forcing a Penn State timeout. Out of the break, the Cardinals recorded another kill trimming the lead to one, 23-22, but Hodge responded with a cross-court kill that clipped the line to make it 24-22. Stanford recorded a kill before a Fawcett kill off the block ended the game, 25-23 giving the Nittany Lions earned their third NCAA title.

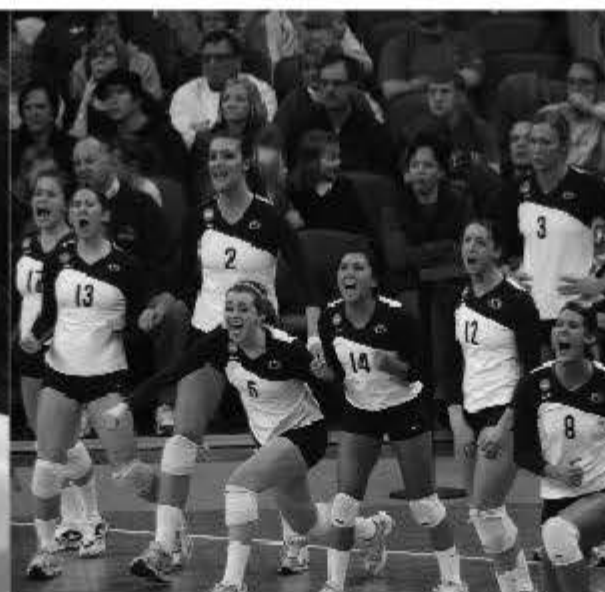

Penn State becomes just the sixth team in history to win back-to-back NCAA Championships, joining Hawaii (1982-83), Pacific (1985-86), UCLA (1990-91), Stanford (1996-97) and USC (2002-03). The Nittany Lion volleyball programs also become only the third school to have its men's and women's programs capture their respective championships in the same calendar year, as the Penn State men captured their championship in May. Penn State joins UCLA (1984) and Stanford (1997) as the only programs in history to accomplish the feat. Stanford (1996-97) and Penn State (2007-08) are the only two to win both titles in the same academic year.

The match featured nine 2008 AVCA All-Americans, with Penn State's Fawcett, Alisha Glass, Harmotto and Hodge and Stanford's Alex Klineman, Cynthia Barboza and Foluke Akinradewo earning First Team honors and Lions Brown and Arielle Wilson picking up Second Team accolades. The contest also showcased the last two AVCA National Players of the Year in Fawcett (2008) and Akinradewo (2007).

Penn State finished the season with a 114-2 individual game record and pushed its current NCAA-record match winning streak to 64 dating back to a five-game loss to 2008 NCAA runnerup Stanford on Sept. 15, 2007.

It was the fourth time that Stanford and Penn State have played each other for the national championship. Penn State won 3-0 in 1999 and 3-2 in 2007, while Stanford won 3-2 in 1997.

Junior Megan Hodge (Durham, N.C.) was named the NCAA Championship Most Outstanding Player for the second consecutive season, joining Lauren Cacciamani as the only Penn State players to accomplish the feat.

It was the third NCAA championship of Coach Rose's career, tying him for third on the all-time list with Andy Banachowski (UCLA), Dave Shoji (Hawaii), Mick Haley (Texas/USC) and Brian Gimmillaro (Long Beach State).

Penn State is now 6-5 all-time against Stanford, including 3-2 in tournament play.

Penn State become the eighth team in 11 years to hold #1 ranking in the AVCA poll heading into the tournament ended up winning the championship.

The championship attendance of 14,299 is the second-highest championship match attendance in NCAA Division I Tournament history. It was also the sixth-largest crowd ever to witness a Division I post-season volleyball match.

The 2008 National Championship match marked the first time in NCAA Tournament history that the same two teams have met in the championship match two years in a row.

Hodge led all players with 16 kills and added 14 digs for her fifth double-double of the year. She also hit .318 for the match.

Senior libero Roberta Holehouse led all players with 18 digs.

Senior Nicole Fawcett, who was named AVCA National Player of the Year, was one of two Nittany Lions with double figure kills offensively for the Nittany Lions. She finished with 10 kills, while adding 11 digs for her third double-double of the season.

Opening Statement: Russ Rose (Head Coach)

"First I want to congratulate Stanford on the great season they had. Thank you to the city of Omaha for supporting the event. I don't think it was the prettiest match to determine the national championship, but it was a match that was played very hard by both teams. I thought we hung in there defensively and gave ourselves opportunities for a chance for Megan to take big swings at the end. I thought it was a group effort in a lot of areas. It certainly wasn't a match that had the same energy from the match a couple of nights ago. That one had the significance to get us here. Tonight's has special significance, especially for the seniors."

On floor defense not getting the credit it deserved

"Certainly in comparing our statistics to other teams, it's always been a challenge. For the year we're hitting close to .400. I think over the course of the season, maybe out of the 38 matches we were outdug once the entire season. I think our defense was good, but certainly our bread and butter has been the offense and the net play and Alisha's ability to get a variety of hitters involved at the net. I think that has always been the strength of this team."

On the expectations on this year's team

"I think for people who coach they know that seasons end at a certain time, and you hope that your season ends on the last dig of the season with someone making a great play. There was certainly pressure placed on this team because of the number of people returning from last year's championship team, and the competitive level of volleyball we play in the Big Ten Conference was challenging. Last weekend playing against a great Cal team in regionals was challenging. Certainly the match Thursday night against Nebraska was an incredible match to participate in. From that standpoint there was relief. In this case there is a lot of happiness and excitement because they could look back. I told them all along all season long keep working hard. There will be a time to look back on it. Hopefully they'll look back and say that they didn't leave anything left in the tank. Certainly on Thursday night, there wasn't much left at the end."

Blair Brown (Sophomore Middle Hitter)

On her role in tonight's game

"It's exciting, but I want to do my part for the team. If the team needs me to have a bigger role, I want to step up and do my part."

Nicole Fawcett (Senior Outside Hitter)

On what was going through her head after hitting the ball on the last point

"Going through my head was they better call the touch. At that point it did seem like an eternity, but Megan was already celebrating, so I thought we must have gotten the point. It was good to see everyone rushing to the floor."

Alisha Glass (Junior Setter)

On special tactics or strategies used tonight

"I think that Stanford has some great players. Foluke (Akinradewo) is an amazing athlete, as well as Cynthia (Barboza) and Alix (Klineman.) They definitely had some players we needed to focus on that we needed to stop or try to slow down. That was some of the team goals. Then playing our own game and trying to win the serve and pass game. There are a lot of things we focused on, but I think we tried to do those things especially."

Megan Hodge (Sophomore Outside Hitter)

On the third game and whether she was determined not to have a relapse of the match with Nebraska

"As a team Thursday night and even last year we let off a little in the third game. It turned into a more competitive match going into five. We got it in our heads we had to get out there and play hard."

2008 NCAA National Champions

Penn State capped off the regular season with its sixth-straight outright Big Ten title, a streak that is unprecedented within the league in women's volleyball. After claiming their fifth straight title in 2007, Penn State became the first team in league history to claim five titles in a row.

Coach Rose guided the Nittany Lions to their third national championship in 2008. He is tied for third on the all-time list with Andy Banachowski (UCLA), Dave Shoji (Hawaii), Mick Haley (Texas/USC) and Brian Gimmilaro (Long Beach State).

Megan Hodge (No. 11) and teammates celebrate a point during the national championship match. Hodge was named the Most Outstanding Player of the tournament for the second year in a row.

Six Nittany Lions were honored as AVCA All-Americans, including four First Team selections.

Penn State Claims 12th Overall and Sixth Straight Big Ten Title

With the two wins at Ohio State and No. 20 Michigan on Nov. 28-29, Penn State captured its fifth overall and second straight undefeated Big Ten season since joining the league for the 1991 season. Since 1985 when double round-robin play was instituted, only eight times has the conference champion gone undefeated, including Illinois in 1986 and 1988 with 18-0 records, Ohio State in 1991 with a 20-0 record and Penn State in 1998, 1999, 2005, 2007 and now 2008 with 20-0 marks. The Nittany Lions also made league history by not dropping a set during the conference slate, as the previous Big Ten record for the fewest games lost in a season was three, set by the 1998 Nittany Lion squad and tied in 2005 by Penn State.

Rewriting The Record Books - Again

Penn State continues to rewrite the Big Ten record books. With the win over Northwestern on Nov. 21, Penn State clinched its sixth consecutive outright Big Ten title, a streak that is unprecedented within the league in women's volleyball. In 2007, with the wins over No. 9 Wisconsin and Illinois on Nov. 16-17, Penn State captured its fifth consecutive outright Big Ten title, the first time in league history that one team had claimed five titles in a row, outright or shared.

In 2006, the Nittany Lions clinched their fourth consecutive outright title which at that time was unprecedented in the conference in volleyball. Penn State also captured four consecutive conference titles from 1996-1999 but shared the 1996 crown with Michigan State and 1997 title with Wisconsin. The only other program to win more than two consecutive league titles was Illinois, whose 1986-88 teams captured three solo titles.

The women's volleyball squad has now won 12 Big Ten titles (1992, 1993, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008) in the 18 years since joining the league for the 1991 season, securing that every senior class at Penn State since 1992 has claimed at least one conference championship.

Six AVCA All-Americans

Six Nittany Lions were named All-Americans by the AVCA (American Volleyball Coaches Association). Nicole Fawcett, Alisha Glass, Christa Harmotto and Megan Hodge all picked up first team honors, while Blair Brown and Arielle Wilson earned second team accolades.

Penn State led all schools with four First Team AVCA All-America and six overall selections. NCAA runner-up Stanford and Texas each had three first team honorees.

The six selections bring PSU's total number of All-America selections to 58 since 1979 and head coach Russ Rose has now coached at least one All-America selection in 29 of his 30 seasons at Penn State.

Rose Earns COY Honors

Head coach Russ Rose was named both the AVCA National and Big Ten Coach of the Year in 2008. The national award was the fourth of his career, as he was also honored in 1997, 1999 and 2007 and his Big Ten recognition was his 10th, also picking up the award in 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997, 1998, 2003, 2005, 2006 and 2007.

Holding a career record of 963-159 in his 30 seasons for a nation-leading winning percentage of .858, Rose guided the Nittany Lions to their 12th Big Ten title in 18 seasons since joining the Big Ten in 1991, and the team became the eighth squad since double-round robin play began in 1985 to finish the Big Ten schedule with an undefeated 20-0 league record. He has led his teams to 28 consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, one of only two schools to appear in every post-season event, while collecting his 20th conference title this season after winning eight straight Atlantic 10 titles from 1983-1990. He has coached at least one All-American in 29 of his 30 seasons, including 18 conference Players of the Year in the last 24 years.

Fawcett Named Big Ten POY

Senior outside hitter Nicole Fawcett was named the Big Ten Player of the Year for the first time in her career, conference officials announced on Dec. 1. Fawcett becomes the third different Big Ten Player of the Year on the 2008 Penn State squad, as senior middle hitter Christa Harmotto earned the honors last year and junior outside hitter Megan Hodge picked up the recognition in 2006 as a freshman. The award is the 10th in program history for the Nittany Lions, as Fawcett joins Leanne Kling (1992), Salima Davidson (1993, who is now an assistant coach with the Nittany Lions), Terri Zemaitis (1995), Bonnie Bremner (1997, 1998), Lauren Cacciamani (1999) and Sam Tortorello (2005), in addition to Hodge and Harmotto.

AVCA Division I POY

Penn State senior Nicole Fawcett was selected as the 2008 AVCA Division I National Player of the Year. Fawcett was an all-around weapon for the Nittany Lions. The 6-4 outside hitter led the Big Ten in service aces (40) and ranks fifth in the league with a .358 hitting percentage.

Fawcett finished her Penn State career ranked in Penn State lore in kills with 1,943 total. In her senior season, she guided PSU to an unblemished 38-0 mark and its unprecedented sixth consecutive Big Ten Championship with a 20-0 league record.

30 Isn't So Bad

With the three-game win over Wisconsin on Nov. 22, Penn State claimed its 30th win of the season, the 21st time the Nittany Lions have done so under head coach Russ Rose, including the fourth consecutive season. The Penn State record for wins in a season is 44, which both the 1981 and 1990 squads accomplished.

Christa Harmotto finished with a .433 hitting percentage for her career to rank second on the NCAA all-time career record list.

Roberta Holehouse surpassed the 1,000 career digs mark at the 2008 Nittany Lion Invitational. She finished her career with 1,306 digs.

Blair Brown earned her first AVCA honor after being named a Second Team All-American.

During the regular season (excluding NCAA play), the Nittany Lions have an even better record, winning their last 67 consecutive matches within the

2008 Highlights

Commanding the Conference

The Nittany Lions again closed out the conference with a perfect 20-0 record. Over the last four seasons, Penn State holds a Big Ten winning percentage of .975, winning 78 of its last 80 league matches. Spanning the last five years, the Nittany Lions are 96-4 (.960) in conference action. In individual games within the conference, Penn State was 60-0 this season, and since 2004, the Nittany Lions have claimed 82 of its 96 league wins in three games, having been only pushed to four or five sets on 14 occasions.

Big Ten Win No. 300

With the win at Indiana on Oct. 1, Penn State became only the second Big Ten school in conference history to win 300 league games. Minnesota accomplished the feat in 2007 after having joined the league at its beginning in 1981. The Nittany Lions joined the Big Ten for the 1991 season and have captured 12 league titles, including the last six straight. Penn State currently stands with 317 Big Ten wins while Minnesota holds 326.

Taking Care of Business

Penn State was the only undefeated team in the country in 2008. The Nittany Lions won 37 of its 38 contests in three sets, the only NCAA Division I team in the nation to make that claim. Of the Lions' 114 games played, they have held opponents to 20 or fewer points on 97 occasions, including five games in the single digits. In Big Ten play, only eight times an opponent scored more than 20 points in a single game, as Purdue scored 21 points in the third game on Sept. 26 and put up 21 points in the second game on Nov. 15. Wisconsin posted 21 points in the third game in Madison on Oct. 24. Indiana scored 22 points in the third game at Rec Hall on Nov. 5. Illinois recorded 23 points on Nov. 14 in Huff Hall, the Badgers posted 21 points on Nov. 22 at Rec Hall, Ohio State pushed Penn State to 30-28 in the third game in Columbus on Nov. 28 and Michigan put up 22 points in the first set in Ann Arbor on Nov. 29. In NCAA action, California put up two games with 21 points in each in the NCAA Regional Final on Dec. 13 at Rec Hall, including jumping out to several seven-point leads before the Lions came back to take the 25-21 victory in the first game.

Harmotto Joins Elite Company

With her fourth kill against Long Island on Sept. 5, senior middle hitter Christa Harmotto became the 20th player in Nittany Lion program history to reach 1,000 career kills. Her teammates Nicole Fawcett and Megan Hodge reached the milestone last season. Lori Barberich (1981-84) holds the overall career kills record with 2,282.

Also with her 1,000th kill, Harmotto became only the fifth Nittany Lion in Penn State women's volleyball history to record more than 1,000 career kills and 500 career blocks. She joins Cara Smith (2000-03), JoAnn Elwell (1987-90), Terri Zemaitis (1994-97) and Lauren Cacciamani (1996-99) as the only players to ever reach both milestones.

Streaking

With the wins at Illinois and Purdue on Nov. 14-15, Penn State moved into second on the list of consecutive Big Ten win streaks, securing that the top three marks belong to the Nittany Lions. The Lions closed out the 2008 slate with two wins to move the streak to 45 consecutive wins, which is second all-time. The last Penn State loss in the Big Ten was in three games at Ohio State on Nov. 8, 2006.

Big Ten Win No. 300

With the win at Indiana on Oct. 1, Penn State became only the second Big Ten school in conference history (besides Minnesota) to win 300 league games. The Nittany Lions joined the Big Ten for the 1991 season and have captured 12 league titles, including the last six straight. Penn State currently stands with 317 Big Ten wins while Minnesota holds 326.

Reaching 20 - 32 Times & Counting

With the win over Ohio State on Oct. 18, Penn State earned its 20th win of the season and reached the plateau for the 31st consecutive season in the program's 33-year history. The only season the Nittany Lions did not reach the mark was in 1976 when the team played just 20 total matches and finished with an overall record of 6-11-3.

Three Lions Earn All-Tournament Recognition

Seniors Nicole Fawcett and Christa Harmotto and junior Megan Hodge were all named to the All-Tournament Team at the Hawaiian Airlines Classic in Honolulu Aug. 29-31. They were joined by Ohio's Ellen Herman, Hawaii's Aneli Cubi-Otineru and UCLA's Amanda Gil and Nellie Spicer. Fawcett was named the Most Valuable Player of the tournament.

She was joined on the all-tournament team by senior middle hitter Christa Harmotto and senior libero Roberta Holehouse.

Trailing for the Season but Leading in Matches

Penn State finished 2008 ranked 11th in the Big Ten with 12.00 digs per game, but the Nittany Lions were only out-dug once in a match this season, when Wisconsin recorded five more digs (30-25) on Oct. 24. Prior to that, Michigan came the closest on Oct. 17 when both teams tallied 21 digs for the contest, and the Lions out-dug conference-leader Minnesota on Oct. 11, 32-25 and again on Oct. 31, 37-29. Penn State recorded a Big Ten-best 52 digs against Iowa on Nov. 1 and California came close in the NCAA Regional Final at 26-23. The main reasons for the trend: for the year, Penn State attacked at a nation-leading .390 percentage and led the country with 3.22 blocks per game, both of which don't allow for large dig numbers for either side of the net. Against the Lions, opponents are only averaging 8.7 digs per game for the year and attacking at a .089 clip.

Big Ten Players of the Week

Four Penn State players earned seven Big Ten Player of the Week honors in 2008, bringing the Lions' total to 65 awards since joining the conference for the 1991 season. Alisha Glass was also recognized nationally as the AVCA National Player of the Week for only the sixth time in program history. Below is a summary:

Arielle Wilson earned two conference player of the week honors. She now has four for her career.

Nicole Fawcett:

Finished with eight career Big Ten POW honors

- Sept. 1: Fawcett was named the Most Valuable Player of the Hawaiian Airlines Classic after leading the Nittany Lions to three 3-0 wins, including two over top-15 teams. Versus #12 Hawaii, Fawcett posted 12 kills, one ace and two digs. A night later versus #6 UCLA, she registered 12 kills and 14 digs. She finished with 15 kills on .619 hitting in the closing match of the tournament against Ohio.
- Sept 22: In the Penn State Classic, Fawcett was named the Most Valuable Player of the Hampton Inn Penn State Classic after leading the squad to three 3-0 sweeps. She finished the tournament with 32 kills and five blocks.
- Oct 6: Fawcett earned her eighth career player of the week honor to rank second all-time in Big Ten history. In conference wins against Indiana and Michigan State, Fawcett averaged 4.50 kills per set and totaled 27 kills on 42 swings with a hitting percentage of .500.

Arielle Wilson:

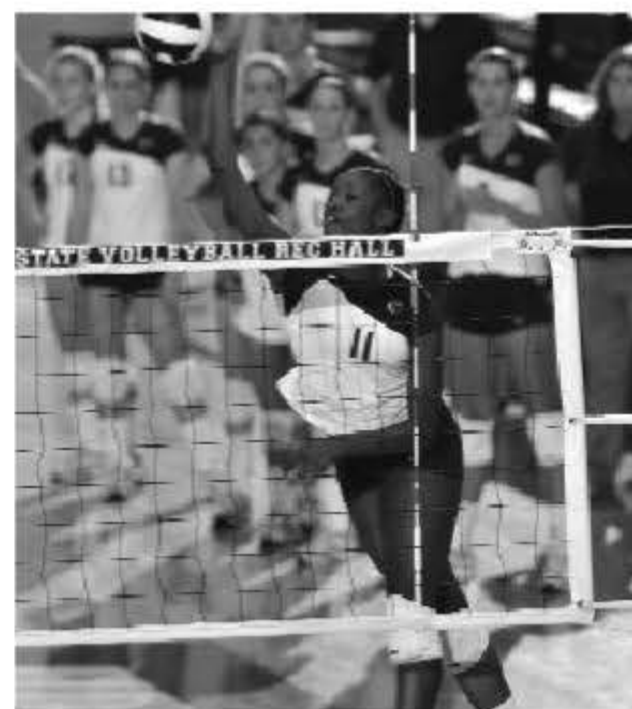

Earned two Big Ten Player of the Week honors to total four for her career.

- Oct. 13: Wilson contributed both offensively and defensively to help No. 1 Penn State remain undefeated in matches with Iowa and No. 12 Minnesota. She recorded the highest kill total of a non-outside hitter with 17 for an average of 2.83 kills per set on a team-high .556 hitting. Wilson totaled 12 blocks for an average of 2.00 blocks per set.
- Nov. 10: Wilson earned Co-Defensive Player of the Week honors in wins versus Indiana and Michigan State. She averaged 2.83 kills per set, recording 17 kills without error on 26 swings to hit .654. She also led the team with 12 blocks and helped hold PSU opponents to hitting a combined .027 mark.

Alisha Glass:

Tallied her sixth Big Ten POW honor and third AVCA recognition

- Nov. 17-18: Glass earned Big Ten and AVCA National POW honors after the Nittany Lions picked up road sweeps versus top-20 opponents Illinois and Purdue. The Lions set the NCAA record for consecutive matches won and also clinched at least a share of the Big Ten title. At Illinois, Glass dished out 40 assists and directed the Penn State offense to a .400 hitting percentage. Against Purdue, Glass recorded 41 assists and 10 digs for her first double-double of the season. She averages 13.50 assists per set for the weekend while leading the offense to a combined .406 clip.

Megan Hodge:

Picked up fifth Big Ten POW honor of career

- Dec. 1: Hodge was a driving force behind Penn State's two road wins to finish out the Big Ten slate undefeated for the second consecutive season and also cap a historic regular-season in which the squad remained undefeated in individual games - a feat that has never before been done in any division in NCAA collegiate women's volleyball. Versus Ohio State and #20 Michigan, Hodge combined to lead the team with 30 kills, an average of 5.00 kills per game, on .436 hitting with 12 digs (2.0 digs per game) and three blocks.

Nicole Fawcett was named the MVP of both the Hawaiian Airlines Classic and the Hampton Inn Penn State Classic.

Nittany Lions exercise past demons by sweeping Stanford

By Ann Miller

STANFORD, Calif.

Penn State won its first NCAA Women's Volleyball Championship last night, sweeping over the demons that plagued it the past two years.

The top-ranked Nittany Lions blew away second-ranked Stanford, 3-0, in 15-10, 15-7, 15-5, to claim the title.

Stanford, which had won the title in 1987, 1988 and 1989, was defeated by the Nittany Lions in a rematch of the 1998 championship.

Maybe the crowd was in for a treat, as the Nittany Lions' victory over Stanford was the first time the team had won the title since 1989.

A year ago, the Nittany Lions lost their first-round match to Stanford in the first round of the tournament.

The Nittany Lions had become the Stanford of the 1990s, in that every year, the Cardinal won the title, but now it was the Nittany Lions' turn.

Stanford vs. Penn State

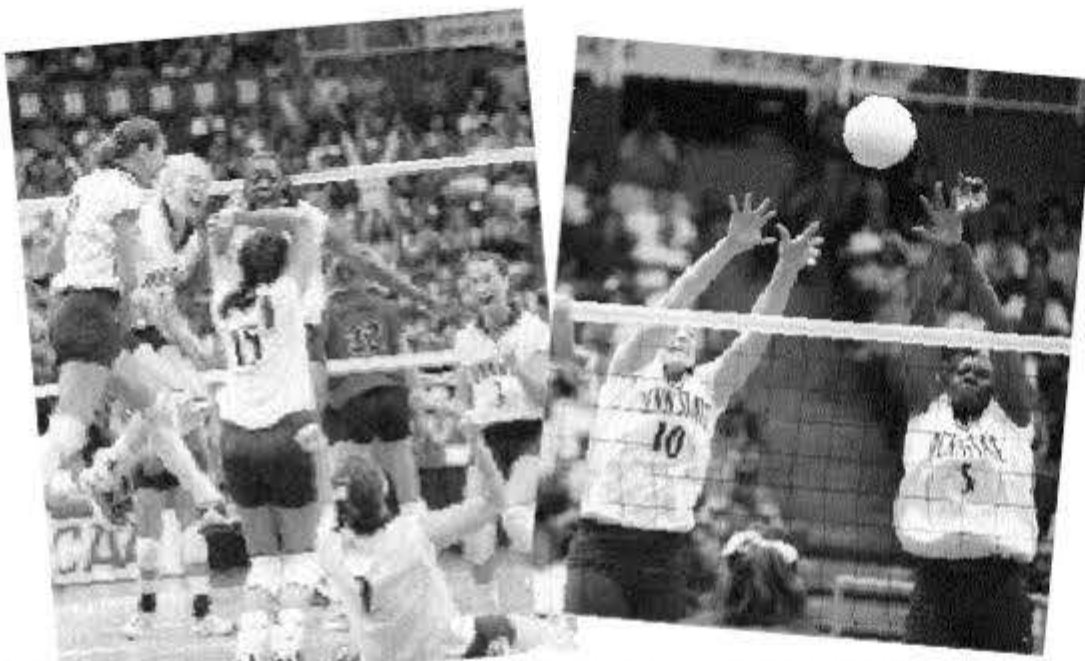

"Losing in the finals two years in a row motivated me to get it done. I knew I couldn't get those back and I lived with that every day. Now I can live with something else."

— Bonnie Bremner on winning the 1999 NCAA National Championship

"The fact that it eluded us after being so close the last two seasons made it sweet to win. But I don't think a National Championship validates a program. We run a good, clean program and that is what I am most proud of."

— Head Coach Russ Rose on winning the National Championship

"There couldn't be any better way to end a senior year. There couldn't be a better way to come home to State College."

— Lauren Cacciamani on winning the National Championship

THIRD TIME A CHARM AS LIONS CLAIM NCAA TITLE

HONOLULU--In just one hour and 20 minutes, the top-ranked Penn State women's volleyball team erased memories of five game losses in the previous two title matches by sweeping Stanford for the first NCAA volleyball national championship in school history. The Nittany Lions defeated the Cardinal 15-2, 15-10, 15-7 in front of a sold-out crowd of 10,252 fans at the Stan Sheriff Center at the University of Hawaii.

"I think we set the stage for the win in the first game when we had 10 blocks," said head coach Russ Rose. "We had a great game plan and the players played with passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute. I believe the players are the ones that placed themselves in a position to get into this situation and I thought they handled all the distractions that normally come in a match like this as well as they possible could."

"I think we had a great game plan and the players played with a lot of passion and enthusiasm right out of the chute."

— Head coach Russ Rose on defeating Stanford for the NCAA Championship

It was a perfect ending for the three seniors who had started in the previous two title matches. Each of the trio played one of their best matches of the year, including senior Lauren Cacciamani who was named the Most Outstanding Player after pounding out a match-high 20 kills with eight blocks. Also the 1999 National Co-Player of the Year, she and the rest of the team weren't about to fall behind by two games again this year.

"We did get an opportunity to watch a lot of film and we knew that we had to come out and jump on them," Cacciamani said. "We were going to try to go out there and dictate instead of having them show us what was going to go on. We were planning on going out strong and with a lot of fight."

Seniors Bonnie Bremner and Carrie Schonveld were also named to the NCAA Championship All-Tournament team. Bremner dished out 37 assists with four kills of her own. She also hit .333 with six digs and a pair of blocks. Schonveld had nine kills to go with her team-high 10 digs. The outside hitter hit .368 on the night and also aided at the net with three blocks (1 BS, 2 BA).

The Lions were banking on their previous championship experience and it finally paid off.

"We played well and at times we wanted to keep the ball in play and hope that they would make mistakes," Bremner said. "They're a big team that's going to get a lot of kills, but we were also figuring they would make mistakes."

The Penn State blockers created a wall that the Stanford hitters could not avoid. Fueled by Cacciamani's eight blocks, the Lions held the Cardinal to a season-low .008 hitting percentage as 1999 Co-Player of the Year Kerri Walsh zeroed out (11k-11e-33ta). They also held 1999 Freshman-of-the-Year Logan Tom to negative numbers (7k-10e-31ta, -.097).

Redshirt-freshman Mishka Levy and sophomore Katie Schumacher each added five blocks--both with one solo and four assisted. Each of the six players that rotated to the front row recorded at least one block as Penn State ended the evening with 15 to Stanford's 10.5.

"We blocked incredibly well and with patience," Rose said. "We blocked 10 balls and they had nine hitting errors in addition to that (in the first game), in my opinion they never got into a flow and I think some of their younger players weren't ready for that. We knew what we wanted to do and we recognized that a couple of players were going to be able to get their kills. We had a game plan that we felt comfortable about and believed would be successful."

Schumacher also added nine kills with three each from Levy and sophomore Amanda Rome.

The Lions only trailed during one part of the match. Down 3-1 in game two, the Lions rolled off three-consecutive points to resume the lead and never looked back the rest of the way. It was the first time this season the Cardinal had been swept.

The Lions end the season with a 36-1 mark with the only loss coming in the season opener to Florida on Aug. 27. It was a matter of pulling things together to end the season on a high note.

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously," Cacciamani said. "We lost our first match so we knew we wouldn't go undefeated. We did a good job playing as a team. We progressed and got better as the season wore on."

"We didn't peak at the beginning of the season, obviously. We progressed and got better as the season wore on. The younger people got a lot better and the older people became better leaders and got it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

— Senior Lauren Cacciamani on losing the first match of the year before closing out the season with 36 straight wins.

The younger people improved and the older people became better leaders and kept it together as well. So it was an uphill progression leading towards the end."

FINISHING ON TOP

The class of 1999 – Bonnie Bremner, Lauren Cacciamani, Kalna Miller and Carrie Schonveld – had been through it before but their final year had a different, even storybook ending. After losing in the regionals finals as freshmen, these four followed up with a pair of NCAA Semifinal appearances that led to five-game losses in the title match. Those memories were all erased with a three-game sweep of Stanford for the first women's volleyball title in school history.

What the seniors were a part of is nothing short of incredible. They helped Penn State to an amazing 137-5 record with a share of two Big Ten championships (1996 & 1997) before winning it outright in 1998 and 1999. The quartet also compiled a 77-3 mark (.963) in Big Ten matches, including consecutive 20-0 seasons over the past two years. They made Penn State the first school in Big Ten history to win four consecutive crowns and never lost a match at home.

HOME SWEET HOME

Talk about a home-court advantage – the four seniors never even lost a match and dropped only nine games in University Park.

The 1999 senior class took the court in Rec Hall 78 times in their four years and each time they left with a win – a large part of the reason Penn State owns the NCAA record for consecutive home wins at 87.

What's even more amazing is the manner in which Penn State has won at home. During the seniors' last 62 matches in Rec Hall, only Wisconsin (twice) and Texas (twice) were able to take a game. But it gets better...in the 80 consecutive home wins the class was a part of, 72 of those were three-game sweeps and the Lions never had to play five games.

LIONS RALLY TO DEFEAT STANFORD, 3-2, CAPTURE SECOND NCAA NATIONAL TITLE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 15, 2007 - The No. 1 Penn State women's volleyball team captured the program's second NCAA Championship, winning a dramatic five-game final, 3-2, against No. 4 Stanford in Arco Arena.

The Nittany Lions won the thriller, 30-25, 30-26, 23-20, 19-30, 15-8, posting their 26th consecutive victory since a five-game loss to the Cardinal exactly three months prior. Penn State finished the season with a superlative 34-2 record, bringing the championship trophy back to Happy Valley to join the program's 1999 crown.

"We're awfully excited," stated Russ Rose, the 2007 AVCA National Coach of the Year and Hall of Fame inductee earlier in the week. "We're thrilled for our fans and everyone that cares about Penn State."

"It's an amazing feeling," said junior outside hitter Nicole Fawcett (Zanesfield, Ohio). "This year's team was so determined. After the fourth game we were determined to get our focus back."

After taking a 2-0 lead, Penn State saw the top-seeded Stanford rally to tie the match, 2-2. The Cardinal took a 4-3 lead in the decisive Game 5, but the Nittany Lions scored seven consecutive points to take control at 10-4. Junior middle hitter Christa Harmotto (Aliquippa, Pa.) and sophomore setter Alisha Glass (Leland, Mich.) each had two kills during the critical run.

Kills by Fawcett and freshman middle hitter Arielle Wilson (Broadview, Ill.) pushed Penn State's lead to 13-7. A block by Wilson and freshman opposite Blair Brown (Purcellville, Va.) made it 14-8. The Nittany Lions immediately seized the opportunity on their first match point, as sophomore outside hitter Megan Hodge (Durham, N.C.) delivered her 26th kill of the match, setting off jubilation among the Nittany Lions.

Penn State won Game 1, 30-25. Stanford led 15-13, but the Nittany Lions scored five consecutive points to take a 18-15 lead. The game was tied at 22-22, but Penn State took the lead for good on a service error by the Cardinal and a kill by Harmotto. A block by Fawcett made it 29-24 and she delivered the game-winning kill for the 30-25 margin. Penn State hit .263 in the opening game and Stanford hit .159.

The Nittany Lions captured Game 2, 30-26. Penn State took the lead for good on a Fawcett kill to make it 13-12. Another Fawcett kill made it 29-25 and a block by Glass and Harmotto gave the Lions the 30-26 win and a 2-0 lead. Penn State hit .525 in the game, while the Cardinal hit .357.

Stanford won Game 3, 30-23, snapping a streak of 17 consecutive winning games for the Nittany Lions in the 2007 NCAA Tournament. Penn State took its last lead at 7-6 on a block by freshman middle hitter Arielle Wilson, but the Cardinal took the lead for good at 9-8.

The Cardinals won Game 4, 30-19, to force the decisive fifth game.

The national championship match was the fifth in program history for the Nittany Lions, as they also advanced in 1993, 1997, 1998 and 1999, capturing the title in 1999. Penn State defeated Stanford (15-2, 15-10, 15-7) on Dec. 18, 1999 in Honolulu, Hawaii, to give the Lions their first NCAA Championship.

The two teams met earlier in 2007 in New Haven, Conn., with Stanford outlasting Penn State in five games (30-23, 23-30, 27-30, 30-28, 15-9) on Sept. 15. The Nittany Lions had won 25 consecutive matches since the loss entering the title match, including a 20-0 record in winning a fifth consecutive Big Ten Championship.

The NCAA Championship match featured eight 2007 AVCA All-Americans, including first teamers Fawcett, Hodge and Harmotto for Penn State and Bryn Kehoe, Foluke Akinradewo and Cynthia Barboza for Stanford. Penn State's Glass and Stanford's Alix Klineman both earned second team honors.

Stanford was playing less than 120 miles from Arco Arena, while the Nittany Lions traveled more than 2,300 miles to capture the program's second NCAA Championship.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP POST MATCH QUOTES

Opening Statement: Russ Rose (Head Coach)

"Well I thought the match had a couple of different matches in there. I thought the first couple of games had a pretty even level of play. I don't think it was the best level that either team could play but we gritted it out and played hard enough to get those two games. In the next couple of games, as you would expect from a great team like Stanford, they kept fighting and we ran into a few passing problems and had some challenges along the way, and I thought we lost our composure a little bit in the fourth game. But we hit .368 and lost and they hit .535 and had no hitting errors in the fourth game, so it doesn't really make a difference who's on the other side of the net when somebody hits .535. Going into the fifth game I felt we didn't have the momentum, but there was no reason to think we didn't have a chance, and that's what I said. I thought we took control, we had a few touches and it's all about converting at that time and I thought we did a good job of that. Alisha had two or three kills and we played hard at the time we needed to play hard. Certainly the people that are up here tonight did a great job at some of the skills that we count on them to do. That's why they work hard. That was the goal. The goal was to be the national champion and that's what we talked about and that's what we tried to do in putting this team together. To compete at the highest level. We won the match, we won the national championship and talk to the players, they're the ones that did it."

On the difference in the team now from the loss to Stanford in September

"Earlier in the year it was Arie (Wilson's) first match that she started. We were up 2-1 and had opportunities in the fourth game to win the match. This evening we scored two points more than the other team in total points so it was really a situation where, with rally scoring, there are ebbs and flows and you have to try to keep your head about you when things are going bad. We didn't relax when we were up 2-0. You don't get here by having that as one of your traits. And Stanford being down 0-2, they wouldn't get here having a trait like that where they would give up. So when things were going bad we knew we still had a fifth game. We train hard and we believe that we have an opportunity against everyone we play. We play in a great conference where we play back-to-back nights against great teams and good crowds, so I don't think the crowd was a factor. The opportunity was out there and we seized it."

On the rotation matchup in Game 5

"Christa in the left front is good for us. I thought even in the fourth game where we were struggling to hit .380, they couldn't stop her. So I wanted to go with that. One of our plans was to recognize the fact that Foluke is a great offensive player and we didn't have any interest in saying 'let's think about stopping her.' She could hit a kill every time but the goal is to win a national championship. That's not to say we ignored her. We put two people on her on good passes in some situations, but in a short game I think you want to feel comfortable with what you're doing. I thought we had all the opportunities to sub the people we wanted and I think we just got good touches. We had some conversion opportunities and we got those. We could have picked a certain lineup that might not have worked and tonight it worked. When we played Stanford last time we hit negative in the fifth game and tonight they hit negative in the fifth game. So that might be just the difference that comes right out at me."

On the match being a virtual home game for Stanford, and on Penn State representing the rest of the country

"I don't want to comment about the Pac-10 because I'm not an expert about the Pac-10 and I don't feel I'm an expert on the Big Ten. There are a lot of great teams and a lot of great players and great coaches around the country. There are a lot of people that maybe don't feel that way, but I feel that way. I coach Penn State and I care about Penn State and if Penn State's not in it I care about other Big Ten teams because I'm a loyal guy."

On the decision not to redshirt Arielle Wilson

"It sure makes me look like I was an idiot considering it right? I mean she hit what, .500, .600, .900 in one of the matches in the playoffs? But those things happen because other people allow it to happen. The staff works hard, the passing is good, Alisha continues to develop. And as Arielle said last weekend when she was MVP of the Regional, 'I just hit over them.' That sums it up. She gets up, likes to hit and that's the beauty of what she does. She needs to learn a lot of other things about the game. But the rally score game is still a strange animal to me. We had conversations as a staff about it. We had the same questions last year because I redshirted Blair Brown when she was my best blocker and we needed blocking at that position. And I think that'll prove to be a good decision. But Arielle plays great. She's fresh. I'm not surprised about any of the things she's doing and I hope she continues to get better. It proves to be a very good decision. When we were discussing it, I was going home and my 12-year old son told me 'you can't redshirt her,' so he broke the tie I guess."

Alisha Glass (Sophomore Setter)

On the efficiency of the passers throughout the tournament

"If you look at our team, when we do pass well we're hard to stop. And the times when we were strong was when we were passing. When the team is passing well, it's fun to watch and it's fun to run the offense and mix things up a little bit. I think we had some streaks where we did struggle with passing a little bit but all in all I think we did pass well, and that gives you the ability to do whatever you want as a setter."

On what the mood of the team was like before Game 5

"We didn't really want to look at the momentum. We just wanted to start from the beginning of game 5. We came into this match wanting to win a national championship and in between those games we just said 'look, we're here, we got here, this is our goal and who says we're not going to come out and be strong.' We did and we won so I think it was a collective effort from everyone; our bench, our fans, everyone understood that we wanted to get it done and it was nice that we could."

Megan Hodge (Sophomore Outside Hitter)

On the feeling of winning the Championship and being named MVP

"As far as the award, that doesn't matter. We got here as a team so all of the awards are nice but that's not what it's about. At this moment, I guess it hasn't really sunk in yet that we won. It's just kind of a surreal feeling - it's great, I'm on a high I guess. It's great."

On the strong hitting and serving which both set tournament records

"I think that's something we definitely stress in practice every day. Serving- we go through plenty of reps serving and coach always talks to us about how our hitting percentage needs to be high because that's how you win. So I think that's just what we've focused on and that's what's gotten us to this point."

Christa Harmotto (Junior Middle Hitter)

On the difference from Game 4 to Game 5

"You can never really predict what lineup you're going to be against. We knew on a good pass they were going to try to run middle, especially since Foluke was in the front row. So I think we did a good job as far as talking to our blockers in the front row, and I think our defense really picked up as far as making some great defensive plays and we were able to get some strength from that."

2007 NCAA National Champions

A TRIP TO THE WHITE HOUSE

As another perk to winning their respective NCAA National Championships, the 2007 Penn State women's volleyball team and the 2008 Penn State men's volleyball team were invited to the White House to meet with President George W. Bush on Tuesday, June 24, 2008. Both squads enjoyed a tour of the East Wing of the White House before individually meeting with the President. He chatted with each group, asking about the season and their championship, where the student-athletes were from and what they planned to do in the future. The team captains then presented the President with a gift - a jointly-signed Penn State No. 1 volleyball jersey and a red, white and blue volleyball - before taking a group photo. The teams were then escorted to the Blue Room of the White House before being formally announced to the South Lawn, where they descended the stairs to a reserved seating area. The captains of each of the 18 National Championship teams in attendance were then escorted to a stage in front of the group and the President joined them, speaking to the crowd and recognizing each team for their feats.

2009 Trip to Brazil

May 10

Greetings from Sao Paulo!

Today was the first day we spent in Sao Paulo, and boy was it eventful! We began the day enjoying a nice complimentary breakfast from the hotel and then all jumped into our awesome two-story bus to head into town. We toured the very interesting and historical city of Sao Paulo with our wonderful tour guide Morris (at least I think that is how you spell his name =). He taught us many, many things about the city and a few things stood out to me in the outing. First, Sao Paulo specifically is famous for its graffiti. The artists take much pride their artwork while creating competitions with other artists around the city to see who can create the most difficult piece of work. Second, if women around the city want to get married, they must pray to St. Anthony so that he will help them find a husband. (As soon as I learned this, I held a small prayer session with a few of my teammates).

After several hours of touring the city, we stopped at the Estadio Municipal to buy tickets to the professional soccer game. The Corinthians, or the home team, is the professional team that Cristiano Ronaldo plays for, so we were all very excited to have the opportunity to see him play! After buying our tickets, we took a quick trip down to a market place where we shopped for an hour or so and then ate an incredible lunch. The food, as we have all discovered, is incredible and it is so much fun to try all of these new dishes and experience all the new tastes (especially this drink they call Guarana, it is simply delicious!).

After lunch, we drove back to the stadium two hours before the game started to enjoy the pregame festivities. In one corner of the stadium, the away team was banging their drums and screaming their teams' anthem. In the other corner, and scattered all over the stadium, the Corinthian fans, dressed in black and white, were stomping and yelling at the fans dressed in red and green. There were policia stationed all around the fence separating us from the field to prevent any sort of fights that might erupt during the match if the game was to get close. It was one of the most invigorating and exciting things I've ever experienced. I know that we have some of the most dedicated fans in the country, but the way these fans supported their team was just incredible.

The game began and the screaming continued. The away team scored the first goal, which completely infuriated all of the Corinthian fans. We weren't able to watch the entire game because after sitting in the stands for four hours we all became incredibly hungry and exhausted.

We drove to a local pizza parlor which turned out to be quite the adventure. They brought many different types of pizza out for each of us to try. (it would take way too long for me to try and list them all!) but by far the best part of the meal, were the three different dessert pizzas they brought out at the end; one had bananas and this cinnamon spread on it, one had strawberries and dark chocolate and the last one had chocolate and shredded coconut. Absolutely delicious!!

Well we finally made it back to the hotel after an incredibly long day and it's time I get to bed! Boa Noite ~ Roberta Holehouse

Today was our first day of playing and I think everyone was anxious to see the different style of play here. We started off the morning with the complimentary breakfast downstairs of the hotel where there were delicious pastries and fruit. We got on our awesome, two story bus and took off to practice. When we arrived at the practice facility, we were in awe of its beauty. There were big beautiful trees everywhere surrounding this huge sports facility. But the first thing we all noticed was the gigantic water slide that we all wanted to go down. When we got in to the gym where we practiced, we all put on our shoes and kneepads and did our normal warm up. While we were waiting for the balls to come, we did some blocking and digging stuff. Then Coach had us circle up while Jess and Tice had a pretty bad wrestling match....no one won. The balls finally arrived and we got to adapt to the balls that they use here.

After practice, we got to tour the facility. The facility used to be owned by a bank that sponsored teams but now is more of a country club. Lunch came after the tour and we went to a place where there was more meat, of course. It was a small buffet style with salad, sausage, fries, chicken and other things. They brought meat around the tables and everyone's drink of choice still seems to be Guarana. Right after lunch we went to our match.

We arrived at the facility and immediately started to warm up. We split the court with the team during hitting lines. The club team had girls from the ages of 17 to 21 and they were pretty athletic. We played four games with them and won all four. After we played, we exchanged t-shirts with them and then took a group picture.

This was another fun day filled with new experiences! ~ Cathy Quilico

The morning started out at the hotel, with the usual complimentary breakfast, in which many of us have become accustomed to crapes (thin French style pancake). You can either add delicious jelly type topping or chocolate, both team favorites. Everyone dressed in the casual Brazilian type attire of shorts and tank tops ready for another adventurous day. The plan for the afternoon was a tour of a different part of the city of Sao Paulo; also known as the shopping district, stop by a well-known park for lunch and a little walking around.

First of all, I must say, people down here drive CRAZY. They don't use turn signals and just weave in and out of lanes, not to mention the motorcycles that just drive up the center of the lane recklessly. It is an incredible sight to see, so forgive me if I forget different things about today. I got distracted watching the cars fly back and forth. So now to the good stuff, we started with a tour of the scenery on the way to this famous shopping street. We drove around beautiful estates of once famous people, hospitals and gorgeous malls. Among the other sites we drove past, was the Sao Paulo futbol club, another soccer stadium of a pro team in Sao Paulo.

After all this driving we stopped at our first destination, the luxurious shopping strip where we recognized many names such as LaCoste, Adidas, Nike, Timberland, and Tommy Hilfiger. One name we did not recognize but were informed of prior to our adventure was the Havaianas, the most famous rubber flip-flops that originated from Brazil. Many of us bought pairs for family as well as friends and ourselves. Unfortunately as well as fortunately, we were limited to half an hour of wandering along this strip (saving many of us lots of Reais).

The next stop was the beautiful park called Ibirapuera Park. It is four miles by four miles along the exterior borders and is full of green grass, ponds, bridges and restaurants. Unfortunately we were as a whole pretty worn out and didn't get the chance to explore more of the park after our delicious buffet style lunch. Clara (AD, our tour guide's, seven year old niece) has been teaching us Portuguese in exchange for English and sign language, thanks to Tice and Alisha. So of course, at lunch, we were asking the vocabulary queen about lettuce, ice cream and all other sorts of food on the table. After we finished lunch, (no caffeine) Christa and I enjoyed a small (maybe a half cup) of the ever so popular café and well, we were bouncing off the walls with energy for a bit. After we left the outdoor restaurant we walked to a bridge that oversaw a small pond with tons of fish in it (we were told we were served them at the restaurant we ate at). We took pictures of the horizon behind us, which happened to be a cityscape of Sao Paulo. Shortly after visiting the near by bridge we walked to the bus and headed back to our hotel for a little nap before the match ahead of us that night.

We left the hotel at 5 pm for our match that began at 7 pm. We arrived at the match SUPER early and proceeded to warm up for an hour and half (because it was a real match). As we all warmed up it was very strange to see a Penn State jersey on everyone for another match together. As the match started in a somewhat small gym at Unifal, the fans packed it in and the noise was overpowering. The first game we came out a bit slow and went back and forth with the other team until we finally pulled out the close 29-27 win. Did I mention we played by international rules so some things were different. For instance I couldn't serve and no back row subs could enter more than once. We came out a bit stronger at the start of the second game and ended up winning 25-18.

After the match we exchanged shirts with some of the Unifal players and we then hopped on the bus, took a short bus ride to another buffet style, meat serving restaurant, in which they bring the meat to the table and you say nao obrigada or sim obrigada (no thank you or yes thank you). We met a magician who had the best card tricks I have ever seen; in fact I am still stunned.

Hope you enjoyed the day vicariously through me. ~ Nummy (Alyssa D'Erico)

May 13

Today we woke up at 7:30 to play the semi-pro team, it was a mix of 18 to 25 years old women. We went 3-0 (25-23 25-21 25-23) and then decided to play another game and lost 22-25. All and all we went 3-1 and they were a pretty good team. Once we finished playing, we went straight to the mall to shop. It was a shopping center that was over four levels with about 400 stores, many of us ate at McDonald's, Burger King and Pizza Hut, but a few of us ventured away and ate the local food. I personally ate at Burger King; I needed a break. After spending 4 hours in the mall we then traveled to the airport where we had to leave our awesome bus driver and amazing tour guide. We got to the airport a little earlier than expected because we were all pooped from shopping that we showed up an hour early to leave the shopping center. We boarded the plane for Rio and it was a quick trip, like State College to Philly. Once we landed we grabbed our bags and were headed to dinner. Once again it was buffet style, but I feel like we have all tried everything at this point so there wasn't much pigging out. After dinner it was back to the hotel and a new twist on things, three people in a room, so it will be interesting trying to get ready in the morning. Tonight we are going out to talk with one on the Brazilian national players, Celine.

2009 Trip to Brazil

After an amazing first night in Rio de Janeiro, we began our journey of sightseeing around 9:30 am. The first thing we did was visit to the largest metropolitan forest of them all. This forest is found on Corco Vado, which is a huge mountain. On top of this mountain is a famous statue, which stands 30 meters high, called The Christ Redeemer. The statue was built in 1931 and it overlooks this gorgeous city. In order to get to this enormous statue we had to take a train up to the very top of the mountain. The ride was not long but very relaxing. There were guys on the very first cart who were playing music and dancing. They were doing it for money and because it was something they seemed to enjoy doing.

When arrived to the top we got off the train and continued our journey toward The Christ Redeemer. If you decided to walk to the statue you had 250 flights of stairs to get there. But, if you waited in the long line for the elevator it would take you the 10 flights to get to the top. Most of us decided to enjoy the experience and take the stairs. On the way up was the most amazing view I and everyone else had seen since we arrived in Brazil. We were not only at the very top of this huge mountain, but we were overlooking the beautiful scenery of Rio de Janeiro. You better believe that tons of photos were taken of The Redeemer and of everyone's smiling faces.

After a breathtaking adventure at the top of this mountain we headed back down by train and loaded the bus. We were headed to lunch at 12 pm and of course it was buffet-style eating. By 1:30 pm we were on our way back to the lovely hotel. We got back to the hotel at about 2 pm and we all decided to make our way to the beach. We changed out of our clothes and were on our way to get some sun. The beach is directly in front of our hotel so we walked over as a group, set up our chairs and towels and enjoyed the people, sun, and the pretty scenery. We ended up leaving around 4 pm and headed back to the hotel to get ready for dinner.

Dinner began at 7 pm; we all cleaned up very nicely and loaded the bus. We arrived at a pizza place, where they had all types of pizzas - shrimp, meat lovers, veggie, mushroom and Brazilian sausage. For dessert we had chocolate covered with strawberries, chocolate covered with M&M's, banana covered with cinnamon all laid on thin crust. As you can image dinner was very fulfilling!

After dinner, we attended this amazing Brazilian show, by the name of Plata Forma. The show was interesting and entertaining. There was a lot of good Brazilian music and dancing by men and women. It reminded me of Las Vegas because of how colorful all the costumes were and boy did they sure know how to move!!!!

May 16

It was a sad and rainy morning when we had to leave Rio. So far it was our favorite city, and we weren't sure it could get much better. We made the long bus trip to Saquarema. The bus was filled with sleepers and movie watchers. Jenna, our trainer, was on a mission to watch She's The Man. For those of you that aren't familiar with this movie, it's a youthful comedy where Amanda Bynes pretends to be her brother at his new school for two weeks while he's away in London. She tries to prove herself as a men's soccer player and falls for her roommate/teammate in the process. Needless to say, Coach was not thrilled about the selection and running as punishment was mentioned several times!

We sat down to a late lunch and then the afternoon was left to our own choice of beach exploring, relaxing in the courtyard, napping, or getting on the computer to keep in touch with the rest of the world. I sit in my room which is located right next to the pool and entrance to the beach where I can hear waves crashing and Brazilian music playing in the background, and I wonder how I could possibly feel more at ease. Moments like this make you realize how much of an opportunity this whole trip is. A thank you goes out to everyone who's had their hand in making it possible because experiencing this country the way that we have, meeting the people we've met, and sharing it with each other is something that we'll never forget.

Next we traveled to the training center. There weren't a lot of fans, but then again the gym wasn't really made to hold people as much as it was made to be set up for practice and training. From hitting warm ups you could tell that this team was an excitable bunch. They were young, fresh, and excited to finally be playing someone as opposed to training everyday. We squeaked out a win in game one not playing our best. Not playing our best turned to not playing well at all in the next two games. We would get small leads and a missed serve, errors on our part, or a really bad call to their advantage would allow them to catch up, take the lead, and win those games. We came back to win the fourth, not wanting to let them think we didn't come to play. A fifth and final game was played and we got down right off the bat just like in our Nebraska match. We were able to draw on that experience and make plays at the net and in the back-row to keep us in it. We eventually fought back for the win.

We headed back to our hotel for a night of dinner, enjoying each other's company, and peaceful sleep. Signing off from Brazil...

I'm going to start this off a little differently today and begin by thanking everyone that made this trip possible. I cannot express the gratitude we feel in being able to experience such a beautiful and kind culture that enables us to play the sport we love and find great competition (and great people to play against). To be able to spend this time with my teammates, coaches and members of the booster family only enhanced our adventures further and I could not have asked for a better group of people to join me in this great experience. This trip has been the chance of a lifetime, unforgettable and unbelievable, truly a dream come true for all those involved.

As gorgeous as Buzios was immediately, we only got a small taste of its beauty during our first night here. Today, we walked (everything is extremely convenient and in walking distance) to the pier to take a boat tour around the islands surrounding Buzios. Within minutes of boarding the boat it was a crowd favorite; the view was absolutely breathtaking in every direction. We continued to gasp at the sights of the mountains in the background and bask in the sunlight until we hit the next island. Closer to land than the previous stop, we decided to get a short workout in by swimming to the island. Five minutes later we all washed up on shore (a little worse for the wear), took the island by storm and claimed it as our own with pictures as proof. A few of the girls also snorkeled and saw "tropical fish" in the shallows. Needless to say, once the boat returned to the pier we were all trying to convince the captain to "accidentally" miss his mark with the rope so we could go on another loop around Buzios.

For dinner, we all found another buffet with an excellent assortment of fresh meats, made to order pastas, salads, fruits and even pizza. We sufficiently stuffed ourselves until we were ready for another night of shopping downtown for different Brazilian knick knacks to bring back for our loved ones (no spoilers!). We also found a place that made the largest chocolate crepes I have ever seen and everyone gathered around to try them out. I would highly recommend a chocolate crepe from Buzios if you ever find yourself here.

Now, sitting in the hotel after a long night of wandering from shop to shop, the girls sit around on their computers talking to parents or friends and challenge some of the coaches and boosters to card games. With only two days left in Brazil, everyone is starting to realize that this dream of a vacation is actually coming to an end. The experiences we have had the blessing to be a part of are once in a lifetime, and the opportunity to interact with such an incredible culture and see a beautiful part of the world was unimaginable. We cannot thank you enough. ~ Blair Brown

Today has been a very relaxing day. All of us girls woke up around 9:15 for breakfast and then left the hotel for the beach. On the way there, we got easily distracted and stopped in several shops along the way. Then, we went to a beach that was about a 15 minute walk from the hotel. It was a small, nice beach with a few restaurants right on the beach. After a couple hours of catching some rays we decided we better leave to make it to lunch on time.

Tonight we ate our last pizza dinner. Pizza has been one of the favorite meals here in Brazil, mainly because of the amazing desert pizzas they make here. It was a great last dinner to have in Brazil.

After dinner we all headed to one of our favorite places that makes delicious crepes (as if we didn't already have enough desert). All of us ordered different ones from banana and chocolate to ice cream and chocolate. This place is very fun because not only is there great dessert, but there is a DJ playing music, and there are ping pong tables and bean bags to sit in around some tables. It seemed as though Penn State had taken over the place because every where you looked, you would see someone from our group. After that, everyone headed back to the hotel to hang out before bed.

This trip has been a dream come true. There have been many times during this trip that I have talked with some of the girls and we discuss how lucky we are to have as much support as we have and been given an opportunity to broaden our horizons by experiencing another culture as beautiful as Brazil's. I will never forget this trip and how much fun I have been able to have with all my best friends

The end of the trip has finally come! We all woke up sporadically on Thursday and had a pretty laid back morning. It was very overcast, so most of us headed into downtown to do some last minute personal shopping, gift buying, and getting rid of any Brazilian money we had left burning holes in our pockets. A few of us treated ourselves to manicures and pedicures, and Katie took the risk of getting her hair cut from someone who didn't speak a word of English (but don't worry, it turned out great).

We met up for lunch at Boom, the same restaurant we ate lunch at our first afternoon in Buzios. The food (and more importantly the desserts) were just as fantastic as last time. After a quick lunch, we all headed back to the hotel to take a stab at packing all of our new and old belongings up one last time. It was tough, but just about all of us managed to shove our clothes and gifts into our suitcases (with the exception of Heather's rain stick and Jess's hammock). After stuffing everything into the bus, we started our bumpy trip back to Rio.

For dinner, some of us experienced Bob's Burgers for the first time, which is the burger chain created in Brazil by an American in the absence of McDonald's back in the early 1900's. At the gate, we parted with Nestor, our faithful tour guide. Nestor was a great addition to the trip as well, and we all appreciated his help and his insight into the Brazilian culture. There was plenty of time to kick back in the airport terminal while we awaited our flight. Once we boarded the plane, it was time to settle in and sleep our way back to the New York City.

This was such an incredible experience for every one of us. I don't think we can even begin to thank the Boosters and everyone who helped make all of this possible. Nothing can compare to the volleyball experience we got here and all the memorable times we had!

2005 Tour of Italy & Slovenia

Dobrodošli ("welcome") to the Penn State Volleyball European tour 2005! Today was our first full day here and we have already done so much! Staying in the scenic city of Izola, we are pretty immersed in Slovenian culture. It's been drizzling a bit but we are staying right on the harbor of the Adriatic coast in the Hotel Marina and it is absolutely gorgeous. The brightly-colored buildings, green mountains and crystal clear sea make everything seem sunny. There is not a whole lot of English spoken here, so we stick out a lil' bit. The people have been pretty nice for the most part though, and we've managed to learn a bit of Slovenian: please = "prosim", thank you = "hvala", how much = "koliko" and "bela kava brez kofeina" = decaff cafe latte... I've already used that one about 4 times. All the girls are having a great time. We practiced last night after we got in and then played our first match today against a club team from Croatia. They were pretty young so we won all 5 games easily. We travel to the capital city of Ljubljana tomorrow to play another match and see the sites. We will leave early in the morning to tour the city and then play in the afternoon. Tim and Jo from BringItUSA have really planned out a great trip for us. All the girls are really excited and the parents and boosters are having a good time too... with a few exceptions. So far the Naylor's lost their luggage and got locked out of their room, the Janias tried to use a $1 USD in an Italian Coke machine and then got their debit card chopped up in Izola, and Mrs. Holm tried to play matchmaker with the manager of a Slovenian pizzeria (which would be alright if the service wasn't so sub-par). So, to sum up... everyone is over their jet-lag, we're loving Slovenia, and can't wait to get some more competition under our belts as we continue to travel the world!! Ciao!

Ciao! Greetings from Slovenia. We started off this morning with a European breakfast at The Hotel Marina and then headed off to spend the day in Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia. Upon arrival, we went to the tourist information center and got brochures of the entire city followed by a train ride to the medieval Ljubljana Castle. The castle is a fine feature of the city and nowadays it is a popular tourist spot. After the train ride back into the city square, we split up for a day of site seeing and fun. Our next step was a bus ride to our match. We played five games against a team called Nova Gorica, winning four of the five games. The match was very lively with a few face shots and a lot of cheering. The owner of the gym we played in also owned a restaurant nearby and he invited us to enjoy his five course cuisine. The food and atmosphere was amazing and the team, coaches, parents, and boosters all had a fabulous time. Tomorrow we leave Slovenia and are off to Venice, Italy.

Today we finally woke up to the blue skies of Slovenia, only to say goodbye as we loaded the bus to continue on to Venice, Italy. After the bus ride we laced up our sneakers, stole the nearest "Vaporetto" (a motorboat used as a canal bus in Venice) and raced to the city - it was all Sam's idea! (Okay, so maybe the dramatic entrance is a slight exaggeration, but you know how girls can be.) After we docked near Piazza San Marco, the real adventures began. We had the entire day to absorb the city, and that we did. These are some of the interesting things I learned today:

1.) Imagine literally stepping into a world unlike anything you have ever seen. Imagine walking through massive crowds of people all speaking different languages. Now imagine seeing absolutely breathtaking architecture and scenery all around you. And finally, imagine 14 young American women (plus one Canadian) gracefully dodging hundreds of swooping pigeons while trying to take it all in at once. Thankfully, we all have cat-like reflexes and nobody was seriously injured.

2.) It's true what they say - Italian men really aren't afraid to sweep a woman off her feet! Maggie, Ashley Fidler, Melissa and I ate a delicious meal along the Grand Canal and as we were thanking the waiters and saying goodbye, the chef came from behind the counter, pinched my cheeks and picked me up in the middle of the restaurant! I am 6-5 ... he was probably 5-7 ... you do the math! Today marks the first time any man has dared to accomplish what he did. Sorprendente! (Amazing!)

On a more serious note, today was a perfect example of why we are so thankful to be in Italy doing what we love, and we are thankful to be sharing it with some of the people who helped make it possible. We were all able to see Venice through our own eyes and learned a lot about the culture and history. We split up into different groups and spent the day shopping and exploring all the city has to offer. It was a beautiful day in Venice, but there is still work to be done! We left the sinking city behind and drove to Pordenone, where we will play the local team tomorrow night. Kim and Kaleena have been playing very well, so tomorrow will be a good opportunity for some new faces to step up and contribute! We will keep you posted, but until next time, there is volleyball to be played and more dessert to be eaten! CIAO!

May 13

Boun Giorno fellow Americanos (Good morning fellow Americans!). We spent day 6 in Pordenone. After breakfast most of us enjoyed the downtown shopping of the city. This city was most like the cities that we are used to in the United States. There are more cars and traffic here than in the previous places we have been. Small boutiques lined the streets with an occasional department store. In the afternoon we ventured to the Villa Manin, which is a palace of the former Doge. The enormous structure and beautiful architecture were overwhelming. Unique art lined the walls of one of the sections of the castle, while other sections displayed old weaponry and carriages. The chapel was detailed in elegant artwork. We did not have the opportunity to view the actual rooms of the castle because of restoration, but we were told that Napoleon had slept there and that his room was preserved. From the castle we came back to the hotel to enjoy the traditional Italian pregame meal, which was actually breakfast. This included cereal, fruit, yogurt, and various pastries. On the way to the gym our tour guides indulged us with the translations of a local newspaper article that was about the team being in the town. The article was informative and contained a picture of us receiving our Big Ten trophy. The match was held at a nearby town owned gym. We won four out of the five games that we played against Pallavolo Pordenone in front of a very lively crowd. The match was the most competitive one since we have been here and was fun to play in. After we played, we ate dinner (at 10:30 at night). It is custom to eat pasta as an appetizer, but we did not know this before so most of us ate it as a meal. Little did we know that we were also having meat, fries, salad, and dessert! It was a great ending to a wonderful day! Arrivederci (goodbye)!!

Ciao fellow Americans and Canadians,

Well, our arrival into Pesaro came on our official graduation day, had we been in State College. So, as our final college project, here is our journal entry! On the bus yesterday, driving from Pordenone to Pesaro, we had to present our research on the Marche region to everyone on the bus, complete with our graduation caps!

We are planning on spending 3 days total in this region, the first two in Pesaro, and the third in Comunanza. The region is pronounced "lay markay," and in English, it translates to "the Marches." The region lies on the eastern seaboard in central Italy, bordered by the Adriatic Sea to the east, and the Appenine mountains to the central part of the country. Pesaro is the capital city of this province, and is a bustling seaside resort town. Fortunately, we're here before most of the tourist season begins, so we've had the town all to ourselves!

When we arrived to our beachfront hotel yesterday, we all ate lunch together, before we had a bit of down time last night. A few of us had the opportunity to accompany Coach Rose and Tim Kelly (in charge of our tour, he runs Bring It USA) to a professional women's volleyball match in a small town about 1.5 hours away from here. The gymnasium was full of enthusiastic and loud spectators, and it was a lot of fun! It was a match between the 2nd and 3rd place teams in the A2 division of the Italian professional league, with the winner of this match having the opportunity to move up to the A1 league next year. Wiz Bachman, former UCLA standout, was playing for the team that ended up losing in four games.

Today we had some free time to take in the sites of Pesaro, which is the hometown of famed opera composer, Gioachino Rossini. This evening we had a chance to play our fourth match, against a team from Gabiche, Italy, about 15 minutes from Pesaro. We won the four games we played in the match, and every member of the team had a chance to play.

Tomorrow we'll have a chance to go to an Italian Catholic mass if we want, before getting back on the road and heading over to Comunanza. From what we've heard so far, it's a small mountain town, about 3 blocks long and 1 block wide. We'll be there only one night, and the gentleman who runs the hotel/restaurant where we'll be staying is so excited to host all of us! People drive from miles around to eat at his restaurant, so we're looking forward to tasting the food for ourselves! We have two matches left on this trip, one tomorrow night in Comunanza, and the last in Rome on Tuesday night. Buonas sera from Italy!

May 17

After winding through the Italian hillsides, our team arrived in the town of Comunanza. The town was small with a population of around 3,000 people. We stayed where executives generally stayed when they would visit the major factory just outside of the town. It was very nice place to stay as five of the girls got to stay in a 3-bedroom apartment that had two bathrooms and a dining room. Once we got settled in our rooms the team got on our jerseys and walked to the gym. We played a club team from Amandola. Their team was short a few players so Ashley Fidler volunteered to play with the other team. We won the match in 3 games, while Kris Brown and Kaleena even got a chance to play front row. That night we had what most of the team considered our best meal of the trip. It was a traditional Italian family meal with multiple courses and elaborate dishes. One of the first dishes we ate was intestine and eggs. It was a long meal that lasted late into the night.

The next morning we were off to begin our long drive to Rome. We wove through the mountains and hills on roads that you wouldn't think buses could travel through. After nearly a five-hour trip we finally arrived in Rome, the 'eternal city.' We checked into the hotel and were immediately off to the Metro station just a few blocks away. The Metro is very small and crowded because the designers of the Metro wanted to avoid digging railways under ancient Roman architecture. Our first stop took us to see the Spanish Steps, which was a series of three levels of steps leading up to a church. The lining of the steps was covered in flowers and it was a great place to take a team picture. Our next stop was the Trevi Fountain. This was the first elaborate sculpture work we saw in Rome and we were in awe. It is said that you must throw a coin into the fountain but you must throw the coin with your back facing the fountain. The number of coins you throw also determines your fortune. One coin and you'll return to Rome, two coins and you'll fall in love. With our backs facing the fountain, Maggie, Cassy, Fidler, and I threw in two coins each.

Our last stop of the day was to visit the Pantheon. As we walked inside we were amazed by the massive pillars holding the structure up. They lead us into a large circular dome with more sculptures and a roof with a giant circular hole allowing sunlight to pour inside. The basement of the building is also a resting place for people such as Raffaello a famous painter, Voltaire a philosopher, Murrie and Piere Currie both famous scientists as well as Victor Hugo the first president of unified Italy. After seeing the Pantheon we were all tired and grabbed some dinner, found the Metro and went back to our hotel.

Today (Tuesday, May 17th) we got up and again took the Metro to see the Coliseum. I stepped out of the station and all I could see was the building. The structure was built between 12AD and 80AD and most of it still remains standing today. When it was first built it was called the Amphitheatre Flavium, and held up to 50,000 people. It was used to hold battles between animals and humans along with chariot races and mock naval battles. The rest of the day we were able to tour around and explore the city of Rome. Other sites we saw included the Forum, the Arch of Constantine, and the Monument of Vittoriale. All of the sites were unique and amazing in their own respect. It was odd to see such monuments scattered amongst current shops and restaurants including McDonalds.

Tonight we played our 6th and final match in a town of Usaro, which is thirty minutes to an hour away from Rome depending on traffic. We played one of our more competitive matches against a club team called As Fidia Ladispoli. We won all five games although it was a bittersweet victory. It was the last time our three seniors; Tab, Syndie and Ashley would play in their PSU uniforms. The club team had ordered pizza for us and we shared it with them before getting on the bus and heading back to Rome.

Tomorrow is our last full day. We are going to see the Vatican City in the morning and the Pope may be speaking. The trip is almost over and it is going very fast but I'm very excited to get up tomorrow and see the Sistine Chapel.

The Streak - 87 Matches of Dominance

Penn State's 87-match home court winning streak ranks as one of the longest such streaks in any D1 NCAA sport. In NCAA team sports of record, only a trio of men's basketball streaks (Kentucky, 1943-55 [129]; St. Bonaventure, 1948-55 [99] and UCLA, 1970-76 [98]) outrank the Nittany Lions' home court run.

Referees: Scott Atkinson, Bill Gburek

State College, Pa.; Oct. 6, 1997 - Penn State can now say it is truly the number one team in the country, as tonight it beat the USA Volleyball Women's National Team, 15-8, 15-13, 13-15, 15-12. Rec Hall was full of electricity as 2,211 fans cheered the Lions on in route to becoming the first college team to take a game from Team USA, much less win a match.

"We were aided by the home crowd and the excitement of the event--We had nothing to lose," said Penn State head coach Russ Rose. "I thought we played hard and competed hard. It was a great team victory."

Sophomore middle hitter Lauren Cacciamani (Paramus, N.J.) posted match-highs of 18 kills and 11 blocks to lead the Nittany Lions. Outside hitter Carrie Schonveld (Portage, Mich.) notched 14 kills, nine blocks and a team-high 16 digs, while junior outside Christy Cochran (Bethlehem, Pa.) posted 14 kills and 14 digs. In addition, sophomore setter Bonnie Bremner (Lisle, Ill.) had 56 assists and 15 digs.

Team USA was paced by outside hitter Karrie Downey and right side Allison Weston, who both notched 16 kills and 20 digs. Former Penn State All-American Salima Davidson, now the United States' starting setter and team captain, had 63 assists, 10 digs and five kills.

"I think they played a great match, they played like Penn State and that's the bottom line," Davidson noted. "We played hard, but we could have played harder."

Penn State won game one easily, after racing to a 10-1 lead. Early on, game two was much the same, as the Lions used their momentum to go up 7-3, but Team USA battled back to take a 10-7 lead. However, Penn State's block woke up, as it rallied to take the game 15-13. For the match, Penn State out-blocked the national squad 22.5-11.

The third game was all Team USA, as it seized the lead early, and held on down the stretch. The final frame was a see-saw battle, as the lead changed hands numerous times. With the score tied at 12-12, Cacciamani put down a spike and senior middle hitter Terri Zemaitis (Downers Grove, Ill.) and junior opposite Lindsay Anderson (Crystal Lake, Ill.) had consecutive blocks to close out the match.

Emily Stout (1) and Lauren Cacciamani (2) record one of Penn State's 22.5 blocks in the match against Team USA.

Vida Kernich (digging the ball) and Marcia Leap led the 1984 Lions to a 30-6 record and an A-10 title.

Penn State's all-time record in 33 seasons at Rec Hall is 495-26 (.959), including a 484-26 (.949) mark in 30 years under head coach Russ Rose.

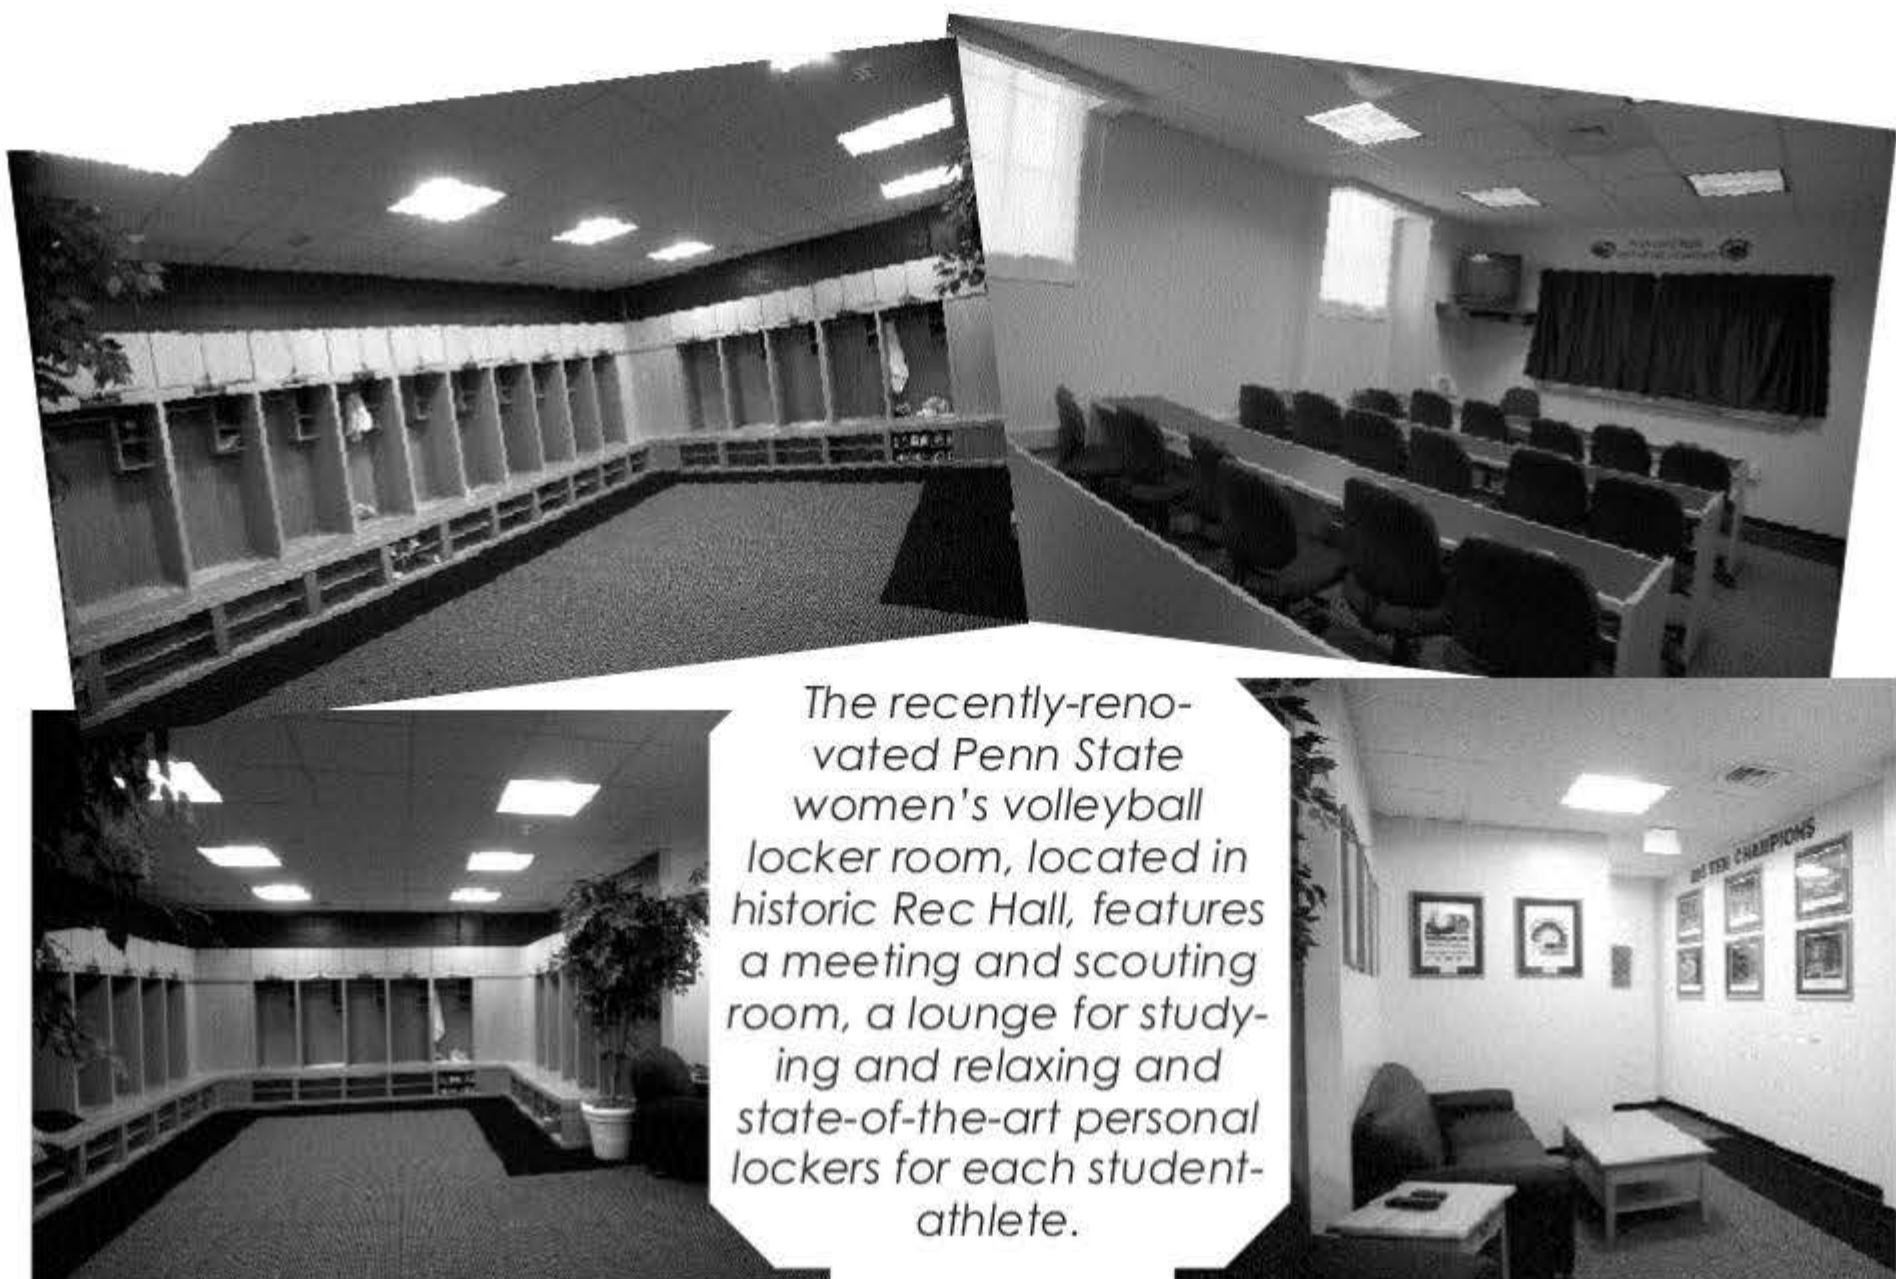

Over the past nine years, the Nittany Lions hold a home match record of 175-11. Penn State will enter the 2009 season having won 362 of its last 399 individual games (90%) in the friendly confines of Rec Hall.

Recreation Building, or Rec Hall as it is affectionately known, is the home of the Penn State men's and women's volleyball, men's and women's gymnastics and wrestling teams. Built in 1929, the gymnasium has hosted several different national and international competitions in various sports, including the 2002 and 2006 Men's Volleyball National Collegiate Championship, the 2007 Women's Gymnastics and 2008 Men's Gymnastics Big Ten Championships, the 2008 NCAA Women's Gymnastics Regional Championships and the 2007 Men's Gymnastics National Collegiate Championships. Rec Hall has also been pivotal in the women's volleyball world as it has hosted multiple events, including the NCAA First and Second Rounds 22 times and the 2005, 2007 and 2008 NCAA Regional Championships.

The recently-renovated Penn State women's volleyball locker room, located in historic Rec Hall, features a meeting and scouting room, a lounge for studying and relaxing and state-of-the-art personal lockers for each student-athlete.

Nittany Lion Booster Club

Penn State women's volleyball has many supporters, including country music star Tim McGraw.

Nittany Lion boosters hosted the team for brunch when Penn State was in California to play Stanford during the 2004 season.

Russ Rose discusses the upcoming season with the Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club.

Nittany Lion Volleyball Booster Club

The club was formed to promote women's volleyball at Penn State and in the community and to provide support for the student-athletes and staff. The Club sponsors a preseason picnic, a postseason banquet and hospitality events after home matches. Persons interested in joining the Club may write:

The players pose at the 2006 season kick-off picnic sponsored by the Club.

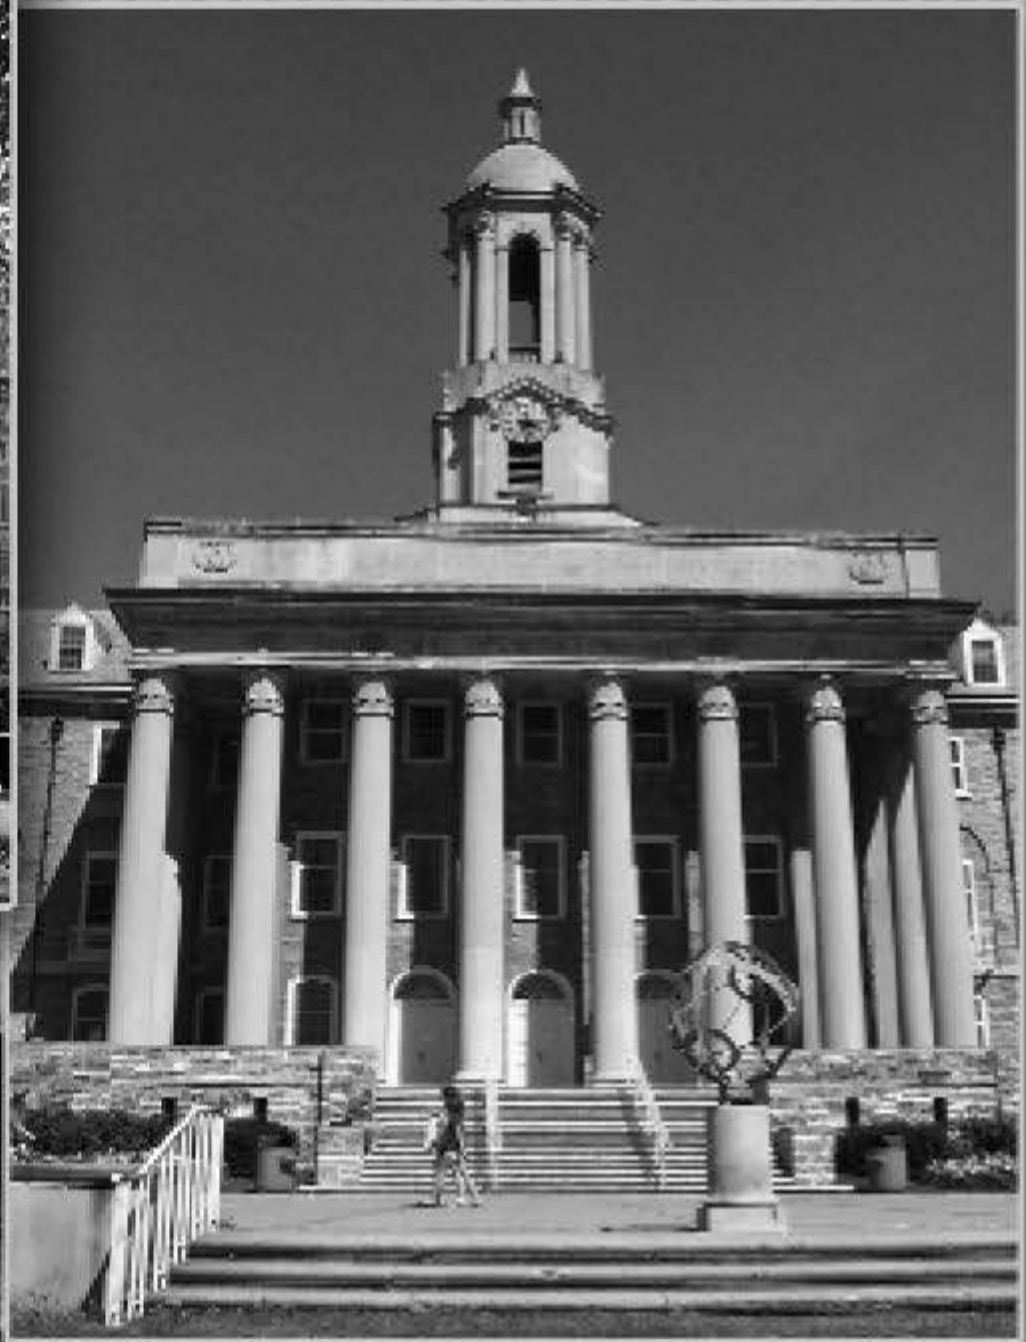

Several members of the Booster Club went with the team to Italy in 2005, a trip funded by the Club.

The Booster Club was the major supporter of the team's trip to Cuba in 2000.

THE UNIVERSITY

History • Administration
Maps • Media Information

Since admitting its first students in 1859, Penn State has awarded some 630,000 degrees whose value is recognized worldwide. That value reflects an educational experience second to none in quality and richness. In addition, Penn State alumni — there are more than 270,000 in Pennsylvania alone — have job- and social-networking opportunities that no other college or university in the Commonwealth can surpass.

The University's beginnings were humble. Chartered as a college of scientific agriculture, the institution was located in rural Centre County after James Irvin, a partner in the Centre Furnace iron works (remains of which can be seen today along East College Avenue), agreed to donate 200 acres of farmland for a campus.

Founding President Evan Pugh hoped to expand the curriculum beyond agriculture. He and similar visionaries in other states lobbied for Congressional passage of the Morrill Land-Grant Act in 1862. The act enabled states to sell federal land and use the income to support colleges that agreed to include engineering, science, and liberal arts as well as agriculture in their course of studies. In 1863, the Pennsylvania legislature designated Penn State the Commonwealth's sole land-grant institution, thus bestowing on what had been a privately incorporated institution a wide range of public functions and obligations.

Initial efforts to diversify the curriculum met with mixed success, but by the 1890s Penn State was making its mark. It ranked among the nation's 10 largest undergraduate engineering schools, a distinction it still holds. President George Atherton invigorated the liberal arts, and recruited Professor of English Fred Pardee to teach the nation's first course in American literature, heretofore considered an unworthy stepchild of English literature. Professor of Agriculture Whitman Jordan's pioneering research on using fertilizers for soil enrichment had global impact on crop yields. Penn State in 1871 became one of the first land-grant schools in the Northeast to admit women, graduated its first international student in 1890, and its first African-American student in 1905.

In the early 1900s, Penn State launched an extensive system of outreach education, "carrying the college to the people," as then-President Edwin Sparks liked to say. It established the nation's first collegiate-level correspondence courses in agriculture, and in 1912 helped create a statewide system of county agents in agriculture and home economics. Today's Penn State World Campus, with its "anywhere, anytime" learning using the Internet, is descended from that strong outreach tradition.

But undergraduate education remained foremost. As enrollment surpassed 5,000 students in 1936, Penn State became Pennsylvania's largest source of baccalaureate degrees. Also in the 1930s, a state-wide system of undergraduate centers was created for students who, in the depths of the Great Depression, could not afford to leave their hometowns to get a college education. The centers offered the first year of baccalaureate studies and were the predecessors of today's system of 19 undergraduate campuses across the Commonwealth.

Following the Second World War, Penn State underwent unprecedented expansion, first to meet the needs of returning military veterans and later to accommodate the Baby Boom generation. Total enrollment at all Penn State campuses climbed to 40,000 by 1970.

The University also emerged on the national scene as a research powerhouse. Research — a land-grant obligation — first garnered international attention in fields as diverse as dairy science, acoustics, psychology, and petroleum refining. As world-renowned faculty encouraged greater student participation in their research, Penn State was able to provide an enriched undergraduate experience that was unavailable at any of the state-owned universities.

Annual research expenditures now exceed $717 million and are a major factor in why Penn State is the largest single non-governmental contributor to Pennsylvania's economy. The University generates about $8.5 billion in total economic impact each year.

Today, as measured by the more than 100,000 applications for admissions it receives annually, Penn State is America's most popular university. Enrollment is spread among 24 campuses statewide: University Park campus, the research and administrative hub; 19 primarily undergraduate campuses; Penn State Milton S. Hershey Medical Center; the Pennsylvania College of Technology; the Dickinson School of Law; and the Penn State Great Valley School of Graduate Professional Studies.

Nittany Lion Legend

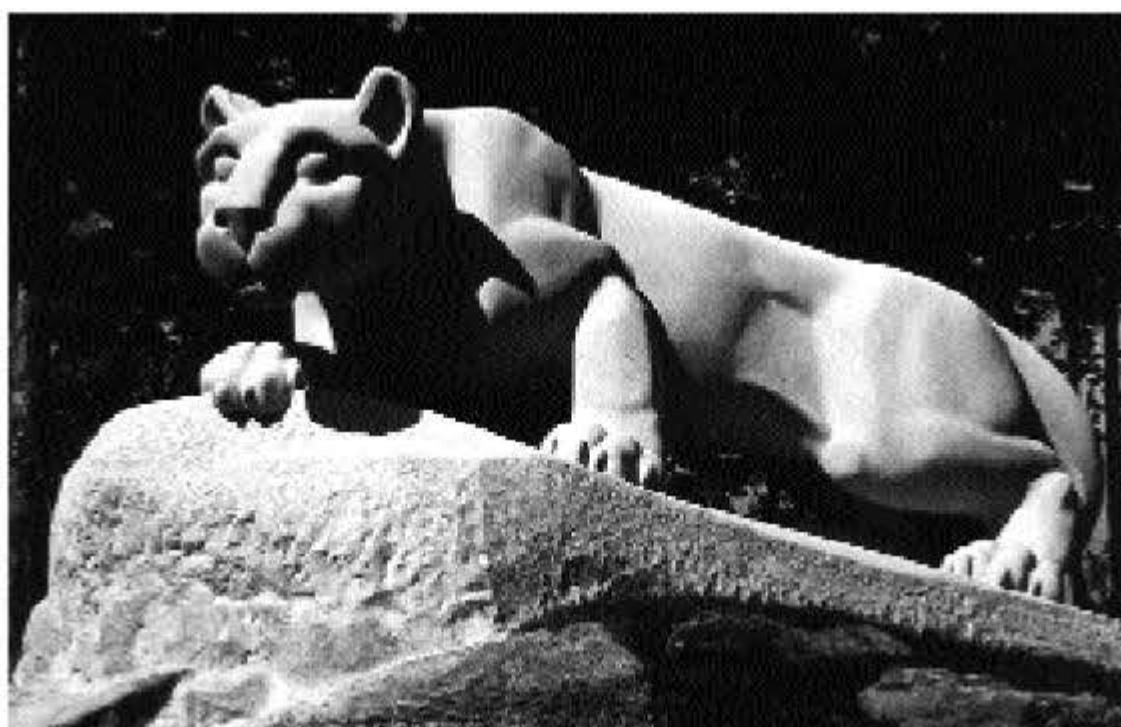

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is the mountain lion which once roamed central Pennsylvania.

H.D. "Joe" Mason, a member of the Class of 1907, conducted a one-man campaign to choose a school mascot after seeing the Princeton tiger on a trip with the Penn State baseball team to that New Jersey campus. A student publication sponsored the campaign to select a mascot and Penn State is believed to be the first college to adopt the lion as a mascot.

Since Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mount Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. In regional folklore, Nittany (or Nita-Nee) was a valorous Indian princess in whose honor the Great Spirit caused Mount Nittany to be formed. A later namesake, daughter of chief O-Ko-Cho, who lived near the mouth of Penn's Creek, fell in love with Malachi Boyer, a trader. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name was given to the stately mountain.

The Nittany Lion Shrine

Penn State's Nittany Lion shrine was dedicated on Oct. 24, 1942, during Homecoming Weekend. Animal sculptor Heinz Warneke and stonecutter Joseph Garatti molded a 13-ton block of Indiana limestone into the most recognizable symbol of Penn State. The shrine was chosen from six models submitted by Warneke.

The shrine is a gift of the Class of 1940 and rests in a natural setting of trees near Recreation Building. The site was chosen because of its accessibility, the surrounding trees and the fact that the sculpture would not be dwarfed by nearby buildings.

Blue & White

Penn State's student-athletes are instantly identified by their blue and white uniforms — but those weren't the original school colors.

A three-member committee representing the sophomore, junior and senior classes was appointed in October of 1887 to develop color options from which the student body would select the school's official colors. Dark pink and black was the unanimous choice of the student body after considering the color combinations presented by the committee.

Soon many students and the baseball team were sporting pink and black striped blazers and caps. However, problems arose when the pink faded to white after several weeks of exposure to the sun. The students then opted for blue, rather than black, and white. The official announcement of the new choice was made on March 18, 1890.

University President Dr. Graham Spanier

Since he was appointed Penn State's 16th president in 1995, Dr. Graham Spanier has been the guiding force behind several historic academic initiatives, including the creation of The Schreyer Honors College, the School of International Affairs, the Penn State World Campus, and the College of Information Sciences and Technology. He has expanded outreach to citizens of Pennsylvania and has overseen more than $2.5 billion in philanthropic contributions to Penn State.

Dr. Spanier has been described as an unconventional university president. He loves spending time with students. He is a magician and adviser to the Penn State Performing Magicians, and he has performed with Penn State's Musical Theatre students, the Blue Band, the Glee Club, and the Chamber Orchestra. He occasionally substitutes for the Nittany Lion mascot. He has run with the bulls in Pamplona, has a commercial pilot's license, and plays the washboard with the Deacons of Dixieland and other bands. He and his racquetball partner are ten-time Penn State co-ed intramural racquetball champions. He is the host of "To the Best of My Knowledge," the live, call-in program on public television and radio. But most of his time is spent overseeing one of the nation's largest and most comprehensive universities, with 92,000 students and 44,000 employees on 24 campuses, an annual budget of nearly $4 billion, and a physical plant of 1,700 buildings.

A national leader in higher education, Dr. Spanier was the recipient of the 2009 TIAA-CREF Theodore M. Hesburgh Award for Leadership Excellence. He serves as chair of the National Security Higher Education Advisory Board, is a member of the National Counterintelligence Working Group, is a member of the Board of Advisors of the Naval Postgraduate School, and serves on the board of Junior Achievement Worldwide.

Dr. Spanier has chaired the Association of American Universities, the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, the Big Ten Conference Council of Presidents/Chancellors, and the NCAA Division I Board of Directors. He led the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State and Land-Grant Universities, was a founding member of the Internet2 board, and served on the Board of Trustees of the National 4-H Council. He was president of the National Council of Family Relations, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Christian Children's Fund, vice-chair of the Worldwide Universities Network, and co-chair of the Committee on Higher Education and the Entertainment Communities.

Dr. Spanier's prior positions include chancellor of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, provost and vice president for academic affairs at Oregon State University, and vice provost for undergraduate studies at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He previously served Penn State from 1973-1982 as a member of the faculty and in three administrative positions in Penn State's College of Health and Human Development. He holds academic appointments as professor of human development and family studies, sociology, demography, and family and community medicine.

A distinguished researcher and scholar, he has more than 100 scholarly publications, including 10 books, and was the founding editor of the Journal of Family Issues. A family sociologist, demographer, and marriage and family therapist, he earned his Ph.D. in sociology from Northwestern University, where he was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, and his bachelor's and master's degrees from Iowa State University, where he was honored with the Distinguished Achievement Citation and an honorary doctorate.

His wife, Sandra, is an English professor specializing in 20th-century American literature and serves as the general editor of Hemingway's letters. They have two children: Brian, a finance graduate of Penn State, and Hadley, a marketing graduate of Penn State.

University President Dr. Graham Spanier is hoisted by students during THON, an event that has raised millions for childhood cancer.

Well into his second decade as the architect of the Penn State Intercollegiate Athletics program, Tim Curley's dynamic and passionate leadership has been the driving force behind the Nittany Lions' tremendous level of athletic and academic achievement.

Named Director of Athletics on December 30, 1993, Curley's leadership has lifted Penn State among the nation's premier athletic departments. During the Nittany Lions' 16 full years as members of the Big Ten Conference, Penn State has captured 17 NCAA Championships, almost double the next closest Big Ten school.

Curley has seen Nittany Lion squads win 56 Big Ten titles and numerous individual national and conference crowns during his 15-plus years directing Penn State's comprehensive and nationally-respected athletic program. The Lions have won six NCAA Championships since March 2007.

In the 2008 fall semester, the women's volleyball team won an unprecedented sixth consecutive outright Big Ten Championship and captured its second consecutive NCAA title, earning a 38-0 record. The football team won its second conference title in the past four years and played in the 2009 Rose Bowl. The women's soccer team won its 10th consecutive Big Ten Championship, the second-longest string of Big Ten women's titles in any sport. The field hockey team also won the Big Ten title.

In the spring of 2009, the fencing team won its ninth NCAA Championship under Curley's watch and the women's track and field team captured its second consecutive Big Ten Outdoor title. The Nittany Lion basketball team won its first National Invitation Tournament championship, posting a program-record 27 victories.

The 2007-08 sports year included four Big Ten Championships and NCAA titles by the women's volleyball team in the fall and the men's volleyball squad in the spring. Penn State became just the second school in NCAA history to have both volleyball teams win the national championship in the same academic year. The women's track and field team continued its rise to national prominence, winning its first Big Ten Outdoor title and finishing a program-best fourth at the NCAA Championships.

Seventeen squads were represented in their respective NCAA Championships in 2008-09. An impressive eight teams finished in the Top 5 in 2007-08.

Include the 56 All-Americans and 41 first-team All-Big Ten selections (48 total first-team all-conference honorees), a record student-athlete Graduation Success Rate of 89 percent and a record 11 Academic All-Americans and 2008-09 was another tremendous year of Success With Honor for the Nittany Lions.

A 1976 Penn State graduate, Curley's dedicated and enthusiastic leadership has helped Penn State capture 19 Big Ten championships or tournament titles the past four years, the second-highest total in the conference.

During the fall 2005 semester, Penn State won an unprecedented five Big Ten Championships — in field hockey, football, men's soccer, women's soccer and women's volleyball — becoming the first institution to win more than three titles in the fall season in the 110-year history of the Big Ten. Nittany Lion teams compiled an incredible 49-1 record against Big Ten competition in the fall.

In June 2009, Curley again was recognized for his efforts in helping Penn State maintain its stature as one of the nation's premier athletic programs with his selection as the Northeast Athletic Director-of-the-Year by NACDA. He was one of just four regional Division I-A honorees and previously earned the award in 2003.

As he surveys the athletic program he has been instrumental in assembling over the past 33 years, Tim Curley can't help but be proud of the athletic and academic accomplishments of Penn State's 750 student-athletes in 29 varsity sports:

- During a visit to the University Park campus, NCAA President Myles Brand stated, "Penn State is the poster child for doing it right in college sports."

- In the initial 16 years of the NACDA Directors' Cup all-sports survey, Penn State has finished in the Top 25 every year, earning seven Top 10 finishes and four Top five placings. The Nittany Lions finished No. 9 in 2007-08 and No. 19 this past year.

- In the most recent comprehensive look at the 117 colleges and universities participating in Division I football and men's basketball, U.S. News and World Report selected Penn State as one of 10 Division I-A institutions for its College Sports Honor Roll. Data on gender equity, number of varsity sports, graduation rates, sanctions, and wins and losses were analyzed to determine the listing.

- Penn State has captured 17 NCAA Championships in men's and women's volleyball; men's and women's fencing and men's gymnastics during Curley's tenure. Nittany and Lady Lion teams have made 29 NCAA "Final Four" appearances during his tenure.

- Penn State also has established itself as a force in the highly competitive Big Ten — winning 60 regular-season or tournament titles in football, baseball, women's basketball, field hockey, men's gymnastics, men's soccer, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving, women's indoor and outdoor track and field and women's volleyball. The Lions have won 30 Big Ten championships over the past seven years, including a school-record six in 2005-06, a mark they matched in 2008-09.

- In October 2008, the NCAA reported that Penn State student-athletes earned a school-record 89 percent Graduation Success Rate, 11 points higher than the national Division I-A average. Twenty-two of Penn State's 25 teams compiled a GSR at or above the national average of 78 percent or higher (track and field and cross country count as one sport).

- Twenty-one Penn State squads earned a Graduation Success Rate higher than the national average for their sport, according to the NCAA.

The NCAA also reported in 2008 that Penn State student-athletes registered a school-record federal graduation rate of 84 percent for the entering class of 2001-02, significantly above the 64 percent national average.

The four-year graduation rate average for University Park student-athletes was 82 percent, well above the national average of 63 percent for student-athletes. The 2001-02 freshman class four-year averages and GSR were second-highest in the Big Ten to Northwestern.

- The 2008 NCAA report also showed that Penn State's African-American student-athletes in the entering class of 2001-02 earned a record 76 percent graduation rate, substantially higher than the 53 percent Division I national average.

Of the Penn State student-athletes in the NCAA studies from 1992-93 through 2001-02 who exhausted their eligibility, 96 percent left with their diplomas.

- During the 2008 fall semester, a record 204 Penn State student-athletes compiled a 3.50 grade-point average or higher to gain Dean's List recognition (minimum of 12 credits). A total of 426 student-athletes earned a GPA of 3.0 or above. The 426 total represented 58 percent of active student-athletes during the fall semester.

- During the 2008-09 academic year, 253 Penn State student-athletes received Academic All-Big Ten honors, tied for the second-highest in program history. Over the past 15 years, Penn State leads all Big Ten institutions with 3,312 academic all-conference honorees. There were a school-record 261 honorees in 2007-08.

- A school-record 10 student-athletes earned ESPN The Magazine/CosIDA Academic All-America accolades in 2008-09, giving Penn State 146 such selections all-time, with 102 in the last 15-plus years under Curley's leadership.

To continue to give the coaching staff and student-athletes the resources to succeed academically and athletically, Curley is guiding the most ambitious fund-raising and athletics facilities campaigns in the department's history. More than $120 million was raised for Intercollegiate Athletics by June 2008 to surpass the Success With Honor Campaign goal of $100 million.

The Athletics physical plant has improved substantially under Curley's watch. A new softball facility, golf clubhouse, soccer practice fields and men's and women's basketball offices are among projects recently completed or set for construction.

The most recently completed capital project was a new baseball stadium — Medlar Field at Lubrano Park. The Penn State baseball team shares the state-of-the-art facility with a short-season minor league team — the State College Spikes. Curley played a significant role in developing the unique partnership for the construction of the 5,406-seat stadium, which opened to rave reviews in June 2006.

Also in 2006, a new student fitness center and expanded and renovated wrestling practice center, locker room and strength training facilities opened in Rec Hall.

The 12,500-seat expansion and renovation of Beaver Stadium was completed in 2001, raising the capacity to 107,282. The project included private suite and club level seating previously unavailable and the construction of the magnificent Penn State All-Sports Museum to house Penn State's impressive collection of sports memorabilia.

Other facility projects completed in the past decade include the Lasch Football Building, Ashenfelter Indoor Multi-Sport Facility and Sami Tennis Center and renovations to the White Building, East Area Locker Room, Jeffrey Field and a new field hockey facility.

Curley also oversees the expansive intramural/dub sport programs — which included a fourth consecutive national championship in men's ice hockey in 2003 and women's rugby national titles in 2004 and 2009 — on the University Park campus, as well as general recreational activities. He's charged as well with responsibility for the athletic and recreational programs at Penn State's Commonwealth Campuses.

It is a dizzying pace for Curley, who is a regular presence at athletic events, team banquets, alumni meetings and regional and national meetings of athletic administrators.

Curley is a member of the NCAA Committee on Academic Performance (CAP) and on the Board of Directors of the Honda Collegiate Women Sports Awards. He also is on the Boards of Visitors for Penn State's John Curley Center for Sports Journalism and the advisory board for the Center for Sports Business and Research in The Smeal College of Business.

Curley served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 2005-06. He was the first Penn State Athletic Director to serve as president of NACDA, which is a professional and educational association for more than 6,100 athletic administrators at more than 1,600 institutions in the United States, Canada and Mexico. He was elected a NACDA officer in 2002.

In 2004, Curley was appointed to a special NCAA task force that reviewed Division I recruiting bylaws and to the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee, a group which he chaired. He previously was a member of the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet and served as chair of the NCAA Postseason Bowl Certification Sub-Committee.

It is no exaggeration to say Tim Curley is someone who knows the Penn State athletic program from the ground up. A State College product, he grew up across the street from Old Beaver Field where some of his most memorable days as a youngster were spent there and in Rec Hall. He parked cars, sold game programs and served as a baseball barboy.

The top assistant to Athletic Director Jim Tarmann, Curley was named Director of Athletics on December 30, 1993, when Tarmann retired after 35 years as a Penn State athletic administrator.

Curley, 55, has been a full-time member of the athletic staff since he joined the department as a graduate assistant football coach. A product of State College Area High School where he played basketball and football for Jim Williams' undefeated 1971 team, Curley walked on as a football player only to have his career cut short by injuries. After earning his bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1976, he served a year as a graduate assistant coach while pursuing his master's degree in counselor education.

Curley was named the Lions' first full-time football recruiting coordinator in 1978 and was instrumental in identifying and recruiting a number of members of the 1982 national championship team. In 1981, he was named assistant to the athletic director where he was involved with the day-to-day operations of the department.

Curley was active in the development of the Academic Support Center for Student-Athletes; the Penn State Sports Medicine Center; the Varsity "S" Club and the Football Letterman's Club during his tenure as assistant to the athletic director. He also was instrumental in putting in place Penn State's first NCAA compliance program and acted as the department's compliance coordinator for five years before surrendering those responsibilities when he was named Associate Athletic Director in 1992.

He is married to the former Melinda Harr of Washington, Pa., who earned degrees from Penn State in 1977 and 1986. The Curleys have two children — a daughter, Devon, and a son, Tanner. Curley was born on April 28, 1954.

Interview & Credential Policies

This publication about the 2009 Penn State Women's Volleyball team has been prepared to aid members of the media covering the Nittany Lions this season. Additional information is available by contacting Susan Bedsworth at (814) 865-1757 or by email at sjb5001@psu.edu.

Credentials

Members of the media should contact the Penn State Athletic Communications Office to request season or individual game credentials for Nittany Lion volleyball home matches. The press row at Rec Hall is located on the upper track level of the building on the south side.

Individual game requests should be made no later than noon the day prior to the game and should be directed to Susan Bedsworth, Assistant Athletic Communications Director, at (814) 865-1757 or sjb5001@psu.edu. Credentials will be available for pick-up at the Rec Hall Will Call window the evening of the contest.

Members of the media are allowed to park in the Nittany Parking Deck adjacent to the Nittany Lion Inn, where they are allowed to park for free with their credential.

Interview Policies

Please direct all requests for interviews with coaches or players to Susan Bedsworth. Members of the Penn State coaching staff are usually available during weekday mornings and afternoon practices and are available after matches.

Members of the volleyball team will be available for interviews before and after scheduled practices, but will not be available for interviews on the day of a game, home or away, until the post-game press conference. After home matches, head coach Russ Rose and requested players will be available for interviews in Rec Hall, room 142. Contact Susan Bedsworth for individual post-match interviews and away match requests. Players will return telephone calls; home and cell phone numbers will not be released.

For opposing players and coaches, please contact Susan Bedsworth who will alert the visiting SID, if available, or set up interviews if possible.

Penn State adheres to the NCAA photography policies. Photographers are permitted on the volleyball court but must remain in the designated area. Photographers are also allowed in the stands as long as fan viewing is not obstructed, and anywhere along the upper track level of Rec Hall.

E-Mail and Web Updates

While game notes and updated stats will be distributed to local media via email and the web on a regular basis, members of the media may request that they be added to the Penn State Athletic Communications Office's women's volleyball e-mail group. Subscribers will receive game notes, game stories and other information via e-mail. To subscribe, send a request to sjb5001@psu.edu. Please identify yourself and organization in your request as this service is only available to members of the media.

Telephone Wireless Internet

There will be at least one phone provided on press row for media to make calling card or collect phone calls. Free unrestricted wireless is also available anywhere in the Rec Hall arena. Please alert Susan Bedsworth if additional arrangements need to be made.

Daily Media Services

For the most up-to-date Nittany Lion volleyball news and statistics, visit the official website of the Penn State Athletic Department at www.GoPSUsports.com. Game notes and updated statistics for the upcoming match will be posted no later than the day before the contest.

Gameday Media Services

The Penn State Athletic Communications staff will provide pre-match notes, scorecards, rosters, updated statistics and results for each team in the Rec Hall Media Room (Room 301, adjacent to press row off of the track) prior to each match. Box scores and any postmatch notes will be distributed approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of the match at the post-match press conference.

An Associated Press-style game story will also be produced by the Penn State Athletic Communications Office. Members of the media may request these stories be sent to their organization via fax or e-mail by contacting a member of the Penn State Athletic Communications Staff.

Penn State Athletic Communications Office

The Penn State Athletic Communications Office is located in 101 of the Bryce Jordan Center. The entrance is located off University Drive using the Orange Lot West parking lot.
